NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Accounting Practices

The financial statements of Fidelity & Guaranty Life Insurance Company (the "Company" or "FGLIC") are presented on the basis of accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Maryland Insurance Administration ("MIA").

MIA recognizes only statutory accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the State of Maryland for determining and reporting the financial condition and results of operations of an insurance company and for determining its solvency under Maryland Insurance Law. The National Association of Insurance Commissioners' ("NAIC") Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual ("NAIC SAP") has been adopted as a component of prescribed or permitted practices by the State of Maryland. The Company follows these prescribed practices and does not use permitted practices and, as such, there is no Risk Based Capital effect.

B. Use of Estimates in the Preparation of the Financial Statements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Statutory Accounting Principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities. It also requires disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

C. Accounting Policy

Life premiums are recognized as income over the premium paying period of the related policies. Annuity considerations are recognized as revenue when received. Expenses incurred in connection with acquiring new insurance business, including acquisition costs such as sales commissions, are charged to operations as incurred.

The amount of dividends to be paid to policyholders is determined annually by the Company's Board of Directors. The aggregate amount of policyholders' dividends is related to actual interest, mortality, morbidity, and expense experience for the year and judgment as to the appropriate level of statutory surplus to be retained by the Company.

In addition, the Company uses the following accounting policies:

(1) Short-term investments are stated at amortized cost.
(2) Bonds not backed by other loans are stated primarily at amortized cost using the interest method, except for those bonds deemed to be other-than-temporarily impaired that are written down to estimated fair value and those bonds rated NAIC 6 which are carried at the lower of amortized cost or fair value.
(3) Common stocks are stated at fair value except that investments in stocks of uncombined subsidiaries and affiliates in which the Company has an interest of 10% or more are carried on the equity basis. (See (6) below)
(4) Preferred stocks are stated at amortized cost, except those preferred stocks rated NAIC 4 or lower, which are carried at the lower of amortized cost or fair value, or those preferred stocks deemed to be other-than-temporarily impaired which are written down to estimated fair value.
(5) Mortgage loans on real estate are stated at the unpaid principal balance.
(6) Loan-backed and structured securities are stated at either amortized cost or, for those securities rated NAIC 6, the lower of amortized cost or fair value. Loan-backed and structured securities that are deemed to be other-than-temporarily impaired are written down through the statement of operations to fair value or to the amount of the discounted estimated future cash flows. See Note 5D (5) for the circumstances that result in the recognition of an other-than-temporary impairment loss. The retrospective adjustment method was used to value all securities except for interest only securities or securities where the yield had become negative. These securities were valued using the prospective method.
(7) The Company's insurance subsidiaries are reported based upon the equity in the underlying audited statutory net assets, and the Company's non-insurance subsidiaries are reported based upon the equity in the audited GAAP net assets adjusted to a statutory basis. The Company's investments in non-insurance subsidiaries for which audited GAAP financial statements are not available are nonadmitted.
(8) The Company has ownership interests in limited partnerships and limited liability companies, including federal and state sponsored Low Income Housing Tax Credit (LIHTC) properties. The Company carries its LIHTC investments at amortized cost in accordance with SSAP No. 93, "Accounting for Low Income Housing Tax Credit Property Investments." State sponsored LIHTC investments that are not in compliance with SSAP No. 93 and other investments in limited partnerships and limited liability companies are based on the underlying GAAP equity of the investee in accordance with SSAP No. 48, "Joint Ventures, Partnerships and Limited Liability Companies".
(9) All derivatives are stated at fair value.
(10) The Company anticipates investment income as a factor in the premium deficiency calculation, in accordance with SSAP No. 54, "Individual and Group Accident and Health Contracts".
(11) Management uses conservative methods based on prior experience to estimate the liabilities for losses and loss/claim adjustment expenses for accident and health contracts.
(12) There were no changes in the capitalization policy during 2012.
(13) There are no pharmaceutical rebate receivables.

2. Accounting Changes and Corrections of Errors

A. During 2012, the Company strengthened reserves for single premium immediate annuities with life contingent benefits. Due to the prolonged period of low interest rates, the Company used a program of selling longer dated assets to realize the substantial gains embedded in the market values. This was primarily due to an approved tax strategy that was mainly affected in the fourth quarter of 2012. At the same time to mitigate the risk of rising interest rates the Company has elected to reinvest the proceeds of these transactions in a manner that shortens the overall duration. The net result is that, while the Company has strengthened its position relative to rising interest rates, it has decreased its overall future yields in a static rate environment, even after the recognition of the IMR effect. Since these actions had decreased the relative value of the statutory reserves in comparison to the present value of the future benefits, the Company changed its interest rate assumptions and increased its reserves for certain single premium immediate annuities by $20,550,411, which is reported in Exhibit 5A of this Annual Statement. This change in valuation due to a change in interest rate assumptions is an accounting change as defined in SSAP No. 3, and is reflected as a net adjustment to beginning surplus at January 1, 2012.

B. In August 2011, the NAIC issued SSAP No. 101, "Income Taxes—A Replacement of SSAP No. 10R and SSAP No. 10". This Statement supersedes SSAP No. 10 and SSAP No. 10R and is effective January 1, 2012. Similar to SSAP No. 10R, SSAP No. 101 permits insurers to admit a higher amount of deferred tax assets if the insurer is subject to risk-based capital ("RBC") requirements or is required to file a RBC Report with its domiciliary state. Under SSAP No. 101, the amount of admissible deferred tax assets is based on the Authorized Control Level RBC computed without net deferred tax assets ("ExDTA ACL RBC"). If the insurer's ExDTA ACL RBC is greater than 300%, the amount of admitted deferred tax assets is capped at (1) federal income taxes paid in prior years that can be recovered through loss carrybacks for existing temporary differences that reverse during a timeframe corresponding with Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") tax loss carryback provisions, not to exceed three years, plus (2) the lesser of (a) the amount of deferred tax assets expected to be realized within three years of the balance sheet date, or (b) 15% of statutory capital and surplus, plus (3) the amount of gross deferred tax assets that can be offset against existing gross deferred tax liabilities. If the insurer's ExDTA ACL RBC is between 200% and 300%, the insurer is required to reduce the cap on deferred tax asset admissibility by (1) shortening the look forward period from three years to one year and (2) lowering the surplus ceiling from 15% of capital and surplus to 10% of capital and surplus. If the insurer's ExDTA ACL RBC is less than 200%, the insurer is not permitted to admit deferred tax assets based on a look forward period or percentage of capital and surplus. SSAP No. 10R permitted an insurer to increase the cap for the amount of admitted deferred tax assets if the insurer's RBC level was above (1) the RBC trend test if the insurer is subject to a RBC trend test, or (2) for those insurers not subject to a RBC trend test, a RBC above the maximum RBC level where an action level could occur as a result of a trend test (i.e., 250% for life insurers). SSAP No. 10R capped the amount of admitted deferred tax assets at (1) federal income taxes paid in prior years that can be recovered through loss carrybacks for existing temporary differences that reverse by the end of the subsequent calendar year, plus (2) the lesser of (a) the amount of deferred tax assets expected to be realized within three years of the balance sheet date, or (b) 15% of statutory capital and surplus, plus (3) the amount of gross deferred tax assets that can be offset against existing gross deferred tax liabilities. Under SSAP No. 10, the cap on the deferred tax asset admissibility is based on (a) a look forward period of one year and (b) a ceiling of 10% of capital and surplus. SSAP No. 10R also required that the increased amount of admitted deferred tax assets in comparison to SSAP No. 10 be reported as a separate component of gains and losses in surplus and as special surplus funds within the insurer's capital and surplus. SSAP No. 101 removes this segregation requirement for financial reporting and also changes the threshold for recording a tax loss contingency liability from "probable" to "more likely than not," a lower threshold.

The Company adopted SSAP No. 101 effective January 1, 2012. As a result of adoption, the Company reclassified the additional deferred tax assets admitted under SSAP No. 10R of $34,355,392 from special surplus funds to unassigned funds and reported the increase in unassigned funds as a cumulative effect of changes in accounting principle. Other than this reclassification within total surplus, the adoption of SSAP No. 101 did not have an effect on the Company's results of operations and capital and surplus.

(4) The following table presents the unrealized loss aging for the Company's investments in loan-backed and structured securities at December 31, 2012 by length of time the security was in a continuous unrealized loss position.

a) The aggregate amount of unrealized losses:

1.	Less than 12 Months	$ 1,436,325
2.	12 Months or Longer	$ 6,680,524

b) The aggregate related fair value of securities with unrealized losses:

1.	Less than 12 Months	$ 254,503,618
2.	12 Months or Longer	$ 132,893,930

(5) If the fair value of a loan-backed or structured security is less than its amortized cost basis at the balance sheet date, the Company determines whether the following circumstances exist and, if so, recognizes another-than-temporary impairment loss:

- If the Company intends to sell the security or does not have the intent and ability to retain the security until its amortized cost is recovered, the security is other-than-temporarily impaired. A realized loss is recognized for the entire difference between the security's amortized cost and its fair value at the balance-sheet date.

- If the Company does not expect to recover the entire amortized cost from the present value of the security's future cash flows, it cannot assert it has the ability to recover the security's amortized cost even though it has no intent to sell and has the intent and ability to retain. The security is therefore other-than-temporarily impaired. A realized loss is recognized for the non-interest-related decline, which is the difference between the security's amortized cost and the present value of cash flows expected to be collected.

E. Repurchase Agreements and Securities Lending Transactions – None.

F. Real Estate

The Company does not have any investments in real estate.

G. Investments in Low-Income Housing Tax Credits (LIHTC)

TOTAL	$ 46,603,615

No further substantial credits are expected to be earned from these investments.

(2) None of the LIHTC properties are currently subject to any regulatory reviews.

(3) The Company's aggregate LIHTC investments do not exceed 10% of the Company's total admitted assets at December 31, 2012.

(4) The Company recognized credit-related impairments for LIHTC limited partnerships of $4,224,512 as determined by annual residual value at December 31, 2012.

(5) The Company did not recognize any write-downs or reclassifications due to the forfeiture or ineligibility of tax credits during 2012.

6. Joint Ventures, Partnerships and Limited Liability Companies

A. The Company does not have any investments in joint ventures, partnerships or limited liability companies that exceed 10% of its admitted assets at December 31, 2012.

B. Except for the LIHTC limited partnership impairments discussed in Note 5G(4) above, the Company did not recognize any impairments on joint ventures, partnerships or limited liability companies in 2012.

7. Investment Income

A. Due and accrued income is excluded from surplus on the following bases:

All investment income due and accrued with amounts that are over 90 days past due with the exception of mortgage loans in default.

B. The total amount excluded was $0.

8. Derivative Instruments

A. The derivative instruments used by the Company expose the Company to potential credit loss in the event of nonperformance by counterparties. The amount of exposure is the fair value for such agreement with each counterparty if the fair value is in the Company's favor. The credit risk associated with these agreements is minimized by purchasing agreements from counterparties with NAIC designations of "1." Additionally, the Company maintains a policy requiring all derivative contracts to be governed by International Swaps and Derivatives Association ("ISDA") Master Agreements. The Company is required to maintain minimum ratings as a matter of routine practice in negotiating ISDA agreements. Under some ISDA agreements, the Company has agreed to maintain certain financial strength ratings. A downgrade below these levels could result in termination of the open derivative contracts between the parties, at which time any amounts payable by the Company or the counterparty would be dependent on the market value of the underlying derivative contracts. In certain transactions, the Company and the counterparty have entered into a collateral support agreement requiring either party to post collateral when the net exposures exceed pre-determined thresholds. These thresholds vary by counterparty and credit rating. Downgrades of the Company have given multiple counterparties the right to terminate ISDA agreements. The agreements have not been terminated, although the counterparties have reserved the right to terminate the agreements at any time.

At December 31, 2012, the total exposure for options owned was $151.3 million and the maximum exposure with any individual counterparty was $46.8 million. The total notional amount of the options held at December 31, 2012 was $5,902.3 million. At December 31, 2012 the Company did not hold any collateral to mitigate the exposure of the options owned. The Company also had 2,001 open futures contracts with a potential exposure of $7.6 million at December 31, 2012.

The derivatives used by the Company expose the Company to market risk (market movements). The Company expects that movements in the fair value of that portion of the derivative portfolio constituting economic hedges would be offset by changes in the fair value of the hedged items.

Cash requirements for futures contracts include the initial and variation margin requirements on open futures contracts.

B. The Company uses static and dynamic hedging strategies to hedge the equity linked liability underlying its fixed indexed annuity ("FIA") products. Exchange traded equity indexed and volatility linked futures and options and over the counter options are used to hedge market exposures of the liabilities with the objective of offsetting fair value changes and to manage the effect of policyholder behavior such as the option to switch after annual renewals. The indices underlying the futures and options are the same indices referenced by the FIAs. The futures and options are matched to the liabilities with respect to equity index movements frequently. Other market exposures are hedged periodically depending on market conditions and the Company's risk tolerance. Static and dynamic hedging exposes the Company to the risk that unhedged market exposures result in divergence between changes in the fair value of the liabilities and the hedging assets. The Company uses a variety of techniques including direct estimation of market sensitivities and value-at-risk to monitor this risk daily. The Company intends to continue to adjust the strategy as product design evolves, and as market conditions and the Company's risk tolerance change.

At December 31, 2012 and 2011, the Company held $8.0 billion and $8.1 billion, respectively, of reserves related to FIA contracts. The Company follows CARVM and Actuarial Guideline XXXV for the calculation of the embedded equity option in the Company's FIA products. The reserve liability recognizes the change in the value of the index over the index period of the contract whereas the derivative instruments are marked to market at each reporting date, and in addition, the reserve liability is also not allowed to be less than the cash value or minimum guaranteed surrender value, thus potentially creating a mismatch in declining equity markets.

C. Options, swaps and futures contracts are valued at fair value. The fair value of options are based upon quoted market prices and valuation pricing models and represent what the Company would expect to receive or pay at the balance sheet date if the Company cancelled the options, entered into offsetting option positions, or exercised the options. The fair value of swaps are based upon valuation pricing models and represent what the Company would expect to receive or pay at the balance sheet date if the Company cancelled the swaps or entered into offsetting swap positions. The fair value of futures contracts at the balance sheet date represents the cumulative unsettled variation margin. Derivative instruments are marked to market through surplus (fair value accounting). Realized gains (losses) on derivative instruments are included in the Interest Maintenance Reserve and amortized into income over the remaining duration of the derivative contract. Long option positions are included in invested assets. Initial and variation margins on futures contracts are included in cash.

The Company does not have reportable information for items D through F.

10. Information Concerning Parent, Subsidiaries, Affiliates and Other Related Parties

Approval of the transaction was received from the MIA on March 31, 2011 and from the NYDFS on April 1, 2011.

B. The Company received no capital contributions from its parent, FGLH in 2012 or 2011.

The Company participates in loans originated by Salus Capital Partners LLC ("Salus"), an affiliated company indirectly owned by HGI that provides senior secured financing. As part of the participation in loans originated by Salus, the Company has agreed to provide Salus with financing in the form of a term loan of $20.0 million, which is also included in "Bonds" in the statement of admitted assets, liabilities, and capital and surplus as of December 31, 2012.

these facilities with other affiliates or makes exclusive use of such facilities. As discussed below, the Company reimburses FGLBS for its use of such facilities.

Such shared costs and expenses are allocated to its subsidiaries and other affiliates based on time and usage studies.

G. See Note 10A.

H. The Company does not own shares of an upstream intermediate entity or ultimate parent either directly or indirectly.

I. Investments in subsidiary, controlled and affiliated companies:

In 2011, the Company established Raven Reinsurance Company ("Raven Re"), a newly-formed, wholly owned special purpose captive reinsurance company domiciled in Vermont. The Company purchased 250,000 shares of Raven Re's common stock, par value $1, for $250,000 in cash. Raven Re also issued a surplus note to OMGUK in 2011 in the principal amount of $95 million in exchange for cash, which was subsequently repaid before December 31, 2011. See Note 21C, Reinsurance Transactions, for additional discussion on the formation of Raven Re and the Company's transactions with Raven Re.

The Company accounts for its investment in Raven Re in accordance with SSAP 97, "Investments in Subsidiary Controlled, and Affiliated Entities, A Replacement of SSAP No. 88" since the Company owns all of the outstanding common stock and retains control of Raven Re. The common stock issued by Raven Re does not have a quoted market value. Therefore, the Company recorded its initial investment in Raven Re at cost $250,000. Subsequent to the initial investment, the admitted value of the Company's investment in Raven Re will be set equal to Raven Re's total statutory capital and surplus.

On September 15 and 23, 2011, the Company contributed $5 million and $35 million, respectively, in cash to Raven Re. On December 29, 2011, Raven Re paid an extraordinary dividend to FGLIC, in the amount of $39.75 million. In 2012 Raven Re did not pay dividends to FGLIC.

Effective October 1, 2011, the Company recaptured from Raven Re all of the business which it had ceded to Raven Re in April 2011. On December 31, 2011, the Company entered into a new reinsurance agreement with Raven Re whereby Raven Re assumed a 10% quota share of the Company's retained liabilities under the return of premium benefit riders. Effective July 1, 2012, the Company recaptured from Raven Re, the December 31, 2011 reinsurance agreement of the liabilities under the return of premium benefit riders.

On October 5, 2012, the Company recaptured from Old Mutual Reassurance (Ireland) Ltd. ("OM Re") the yearly renewable term reinsurance agreement under which OM Re assumed a quota share of the risk that policyholders exercise the "waiver of surrender charge" features on certain deferred annuity policies. The recapture transaction was effective October 1, 2012. The Company simultaneously entered into a reinsurance agreement with Raven Re, to re-cede a similar quota share of the "waiver of surrender charge" risk to Raven Re effective October 1, 2012. As a result of this transaction the Company's investment in affiliated common stock for Raven Re reflects the subsidiary's effect of the permitted accounting practice for its $295 million LOC as an admitted asset.

See Note 21C, Reinsurance Transactions, for additional discussion on the recaptures, ceding of ROP business and its recapture and other related reinsurance transactions.

(1) The Company owns 100% of the stock of FGLICNY and Raven Re.
(2) There are no quoted subsidiary market values.
(3) The assets, liabilities and results of operations as of and for the period ending December 31, 2012, are as follows (amounts in thousands):

1) The Company has 50,000 shares authorized and 30,000 shares issued and outstanding.

2) The Company has no preferred stock outstanding.

3) Dividends on the Company's stock are paid as declared by its Board of Directors. Under the laws of the State of Maryland, any proposed payment of a dividend is classified as an "extraordinary dividend" if it, together with the aggregate fair market value of other dividends or distributions made during the preceding twelve months, exceeds the lesser of 10% of capital and surplus as of the preceding December 31 or net gain from operations before realized capital gains or losses for the preceding year. No extraordinary dividends may be paid without prior approval of the MIA. There are no other restrictions placed on the portion of the Company's profits that may be paid as ordinary dividends to stockholders.

11) On December 31, 2009, the Company issued a surplus note (the "Surplus Note") to its parent, FGLH in the principal amount of $30,000,000.

Principal and interest payments are payable out of the surplus of the Company and require the prior written approval of MIA. Interest accrues on the Surplus Note at the rate of 6% per annum, with interest payments made semi-annually subject to the Company having sufficient surplus and obtaining the approval of MIA.

The Surplus Note may be prepaid in whole or in part at any time, plus accrued interest to the date of prepayment, without premium or penalty subject to the Company having sufficient surplus and obtaining the approval of MIA.

The unpaid principal balance matures on December 31, 2019. The Surplus Note will be automatically extend from year to year if the Company has insufficient surplus or does not obtain the approval of MIA to effect the repayment.

In 2012, interest paid on the Surplus Note by the Company totaled $1,800,000.

12) There was no restatement due to quasi-reorganization.

13) Quasi-reorganization – Not applicable

14. Contingencies

A. The Company had no material contingent liabilities at December 31, 2012 other than the potential assessments disclosed in Note 14B below.

There are no commitments or contingent commitments related to LIHTC properties investments.

B. (1) The Company is assessed amounts by the state guaranty funds to cover losses to policyholders of insolvent insurance companies. Those mandatory assessments may be partially recovered through a reduction in future premium tax in certain states.

The Company received updated information in 2012 of potential assessments from the National Organization of Life & Health Insurance Guaranty Association ("NOLHGA"). The Company has recorded a potential liability related to its share of the estimated guaranty fund assessments as provided by NOLHGA in the amount of $5.2 million. The data provided by NOLHGA utilizes estimates and does not reflect the actual timing of future assessments.

This liability could change should any new insolvencies arise. Management reviews open insolvencies annually to determine if the guaranty fund accrual is sufficient.

The Company has established an asset related to future premium tax deductions for this liability in the amount of $4.3 million.

a.	Assets recognized from paid and accrued premium tax offsets and policy surcharges prior year-end	$4,231,603
b.	Decreases current year:
	Expired Premium tax credits	$0
	Credits not deemed to be recoverable	($29,772)
	Used premium tax credits	($327,986)
c.	Increases current year:

X

Indicate whether claim count information is disclosed per claim or per claimant

(f) Per Claim [ ] (g) Per Claimant [X]

E. The Company is routinely engaged in litigation in the normal course of business, including defending claims for policy benefits and punitive damages. Certain claims are asserted as class actions, purporting to represent a group of similarly situated individuals. In the opinion of management and in light of existing insurance and other potential indemnification, reinsurance and established reserves, such litigation is not expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial position, although it is possible that the results of operations could be materially affected by an unfavorable outcome in any one annual period.

The Company has received inquiries from a number of state regulatory authorities regarding its use of the U.S. Social Security Administration's Death Master File ("Death Master File") and compliance with state claims practices regulation and unclaimed property and escheatment laws. To date, the Company has received inquiries from authorities in Maryland and Minnesota. Legislation requiring insurance companies to use the Death Master File to identify potential claims has recently been enacted in the Company's state of domicile (Maryland) and other states. As a result of these legislative and regulatory developments, in May of 2012 the Company undertook an initiative to use the Death Master File and other publicly available databases to identify persons potentially entitled to benefits under life insurance policies, annuities, and retained asset accounts. In 2012 the Company incurred a one-time $11.0 million pre-tax charge, net of reinsurance, to increase reserves to cover potential benefits payable resulting from this ongoing effort. Based on its analysis to date and management's estimate, the Company believes the remaining accrual will cover the reasonably estimated liability arising out of these developments. Additional costs that cannot be reasonably estimated as of the date of this filing are possible as a result of ongoing regulatory developments and other potential future requirements related to this matter. In the second half of 2012 the company received notices from several states that they will be conducting unclaimed property audits.

The Company has no assets, other than invested assets, that it considers to be impaired.

20. Fair Value Measurements

A. The Company's measurement of fair value is based on assumptions used by market participants in pricing the asset or liability, which may include inherent risk, restrictions on the sale or use of an asset or non-performance risk. The Company's estimate of an exchange price is the price in an orderly transaction between market participants to sell the asset or transfer the liability ("exit price") in the principal market, or the most advantageous market in the absence of a principal market, for that asset or liability, as opposed to the price that would be paid to acquire the asset or receive a liability ("entry price").

(1) Fair Value Measurements at December 31, 2012:

(1) Description	(2) (Level 1)	(3) (Level 2)	(4) (Level 3)	(5) Total
Assets at fair value:
Bonds	$ -	$ 2,196,348	$ -	$ 2,196,348

Futures contracts	-	3,865,588	-	3,865,588
Total assets at fair value	$ 6,197,725	$ 206,011,732	$ -	$ 212,209,457

(2) Fair Value Measurements in (Level 3) of the Fair Value Hierarchy

Description	Beginning Balance at 1/1/2012	Transfers into Level 3	Transfers out of Level 3	Total gains (losses) included in Net Income	Total gains (losses) included in Surplus	Purchases, issuances, sales, and settlements	Ending Balance at 12/31/2012
Bonds	$279	$-	$279	$-	$-	$-	$-

(3) The Company's policy is to recognize transfers in and transfers out of the fair value hierarchy levels as of the beginning of the year of the event or change in circumstances that caused the transfer.

(4) Valuation techniques and inputs used in Fair Value Measurements for Level 2:

Bonds – The fair value of bonds is based upon valuations obtained from an independent pricing service. The primary inputs are observable and include benchmark yields, reported trades, broker/dealer quotes, issuer spread, two-sided markets, benchmark securities, bids, offers and reference data including market research publications. The independent pricing service also evaluates new issue data, monthly payment information and collateral performance. The independent pricing service uses spreads and other information solicited from Wall Street buy and sell side sources, including primary and secondary dealers, portfolio managers and research analysts. The primary inputs used by the independent pricing service are observable and, therefore, the investments are classified as Level 2.

Common Stock - Unaffiliated - The Company's investment in unaffiliated common stock that is reported at fair value and classified in Level 2 represents the Company's investment in Federal Home Loan Bank of Atlanta ("FHLB") common stock. Based upon the level of transactions with the FHLB, the Company is required to maintain FHLB stock. The fair value of this stock is set equal to its cost, which represents the price at which the FHLB will repurchase the stock.

Derivative Instruments - The fair value of derivative assets is based upon valuation pricing models and represents what the Company would expect to receive or pay at the balance sheet date if the Company cancelled the options, entered into offsetting positions, or exercised the options. The fair value of futures contracts at the balance sheet date represents the cumulative unsettled variation margin. Fair values for these instruments are determined externally by an independent actuarial firm using market observable inputs, including interest rates, yield curve volatilities, etc. and therefore, the assets are classified as Level 2. Credit risk related to the counterparty is considered when estimating the fair values of these derivatives. However, the Company is largely protected by collateral arrangements with counterparties.

Valuation techniques and inputs used in Fair Value Measurements for Level 3:

In certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, an investment's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lower level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Company's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the investment.

When a determination is made to classify an asset or liability within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy, the determination is based upon the significance of the unobservable inputs to the overall fair value measurement. Because certain securities trade in less liquid or illiquid markets with limited or no pricing information, the determination of fair value for these securities is inherently more difficult. However, Level 3 fair value investments may include, in addition to the unobservable or Level 3 inputs, observable components, which are components that are actively quoted or can be validated to market-based sources.

Bonds and preferred stocks: Fair values for bonds and preferred stocks are based on valuations obtained from an independent pricing service or broker quotes. The independent pricing service's valuations are based on market data and utilize pricing models that vary by asset class and incorporate available trade, bid and other market information and, for structured securities, cash flow and loan performance data when available. The primary inputs are observable and include benchmark yields, reported trades, broker/dealer quotes, issuer spread, two-sided markets, benchmark securities, bids, offers and reference data including market research publications. The independent pricing service also evaluates new issue data, monthly payment information and collateral performance. The independent pricing service uses spreads and other information solicited from Wall Street buy and sell side sources, including primary and secondary dealers, portfolio managers and research analysts. The Company uses the valuations provided by the independent pricing service as the estimated fair value of the security when available. If the independent pricing service is not able to provide a valuation, the Company obtains a broker quote and uses the broker quote as an estimate of fair value.

Common stocks - unaffiliated: The Company's investment in unaffiliated common stocks is comprised of FHLB common stock and mutual funds. Based upon the level of transactions with the FHLB, the Company is required to maintain FHLB stock. The fair value of the FHLB common stock is set equal to its cost, which represents the price at which the FHLB will repurchase the stock. The mutual funds in which the Company invests are actively-traded institutional and retail mutual fund investments. The fair value for the mutual fund investments is based on the values provided by the respective mutual fund companies and represents the value the Company would have received if it withdrew its investment on the balance sheet date.

Mortgage loans and policy loans: Fair values for policy loans are estimated using discounted cash flow analysis, using interest rates currently being offered for loans with similar credit risk. Loans with similar characteristics are aggregated for purposes of the calculations. The carrying value for mortgage loans approximates the fair value.

Derivative instruments: The fair value of options is based upon valuation pricing models and represents what the Company would expect to receive or pay at the balance sheet date if the Company cancelled the options, entered into offsetting positions, or exercised the options. The fair value of futures contracts at the balance sheet date represents the cumulative unsettled variation margin (open trade equity net of cash settlements). Fair values for these instruments are determined externally by an independent actuarial firm using market observable inputs, including interest rates, yield curve volatilities and other factors.

Surplus debentures: The fair values of surplus debentures are based on valuations obtained from independent pricing services or broker quotes.

Separate account invested assets: FHLB separate account invested assets are comprised of bonds and short-term investments. The fair value of the bonds held in the FHLB separate account are based on valuations obtained from an independent pricing service or broker quotes using the same methods and inputs described above for "bonds and preferred stocks".

Other assets and other liabilities: Other assets and liabilities considered financial instruments are generally of a short-term nature, and it is assumed the carrying value approximates fair value.

Deposit-type contracts: Fair values for the Company's liabilities under deposit-type contracts are estimated using discounted cash flow calculations based on interest rates currently being offered for like contracts with similar maturities.

21. Other Items

The Company elected to round to the nearest dollar in reporting amounts in this statement. Certain amounts reported in the prior year have been reclassified to conform to the current year presentation.

A. Extraordinary Items

There were no extraordinary items to disclose in 2012.

B. Troubled Debt Restructuring

There were no troubled debt restructurings in 2012.

C. Reinsurance transactions

Pursuant to the F&G Stock Purchase Agreement, on April 7, 2011, the Company recaptured all of the life insurance business ceded to Old Mutual Reassurance (Ireland) Ltd. ("OM Re"), an affiliated company of OMGUK. OM Re transferred cash and invested assets with a fair value of $654 million to the Company in settlement of all of OM Re's obligations under these reinsurance agreements. The assets transferred were equal to the economic reserves, which are a proxy for the fair value of the business recaptured. During 2011, the Company recognized a loss of $488 million related to the recapture of this business which is comprised of $1,148 million of net statutory reserves recaptured and the re-establishment of the related interest maintenance reserve ("IMR") of $4 million, reduced by the cash and invested assets received of $654 million and $10 million of accelerated amortization of the deferred ceding commission established when this in-force block of business was initially ceded to OM Re.

The Company also had a yearly renewable term, quota share, reinsurance agreement with OM Re whereby OM Re assumed a portion of the risk that policyholders exercise the "waiver of surrender charge" features on certain deferred annuity policies. The statutory reserves ceded under this agreement were secured by a $255 million letter of credit sponsored by Old Mutual plc of London, England ("OM"), OMGUK's parent and the Company's former ultimate parent. This treaty was recaptured on October 1, 2012.

As discussed in Note 10I, the Company established Raven Re, a newly-formed, wholly owned special purpose captive reinsurance company. Simultaneously, Raven Re financed $535 million of statutory reserves for this business with a letter of credit facility provided by Nomura Bank International plc ("Nomura"), an unaffiliated financial institution, and guaranteed by OMGUK and Harbinger F&G. The Company paid Nomura an upfront structuring fee of $13.75 million to establish the letter of credit facility which was recognized as an expense in the Company's Summary of Operations.

Initial economic reserves, a proxy for the fair value of the business ceded to Raven Re, were ceded on a funds withheld basis under the reinsurance agreement; non-economic reserves were ceded on a funds transferred basis and are secured by the letter of credit facility. No assets were transferred from the Company to Raven Re for the non-economic reserves. The Company reduced its life insurance reserve liability by $909 million to reflect the reserves ceded to Raven Re and recorded an initial ceded premium equal to the economic reserves of $436 million, resulting in a gain of $473 million on the reinsurance of this in-force block of business. This gain was offset against the loss of $488 million recognized on the recapture of the business from OM Re since the re-cession of the business to Raven Re occurred contemporaneously with the recapture of the business from OM Re.

On October 17, 2011, the Company and Wilton Reassurance Company ("Wilton Re") executed the Raven Springing Amendment as described below with an effective date of October 1, 2011. As a result, the Company recaptured from Raven Re all of the business that had been ceded to Raven Re and the letter of credit facility was terminated. The Company recognized a loss of $525 million related to the recapture of this business which is comprised of $941 million of net statutory reserves recaptured and $29 million of net unrealized gains on the assets held in the funds withheld account related to this reinsurance agreement reduced by the release of the funds withheld liability of $445 million. In addition, the Company's investment in Raven Re and, therefore, the Company's surplus, decreased by approximately $10 million as a result of the recapture transaction and the termination of the letter of credit facility.

On January 26, 2011, Harbinger F&G entered into a commitment agreement (the "Commitment Agreement") with Wilton Re U.S. Holdings, Inc. ("Wilton") committing Wilton Reassurance Company ("Wilton Re"), a wholly owned subsidiary of Wilton and a Minnesota insurance company to enter into two amendments to the existing coinsurance agreement between the Company and Wilton Re. Under the first of the two amendments, on April 8, 2011, the Company ceded to Wilton Re significantly all of the remaining life insurance business that it had retained. The Company transferred assets with a fair value of $543 million to Wilton Re which is comprised of the initial ceded premium of $651 million and the IMR related to the business of $6 million, net of a ceding commission of $114 million. The Company realized a net gain of $6 million on the invested assets transferred to Wilton Re which was transferred to the IMR. The Company reduced its life insurance reserve liability by $651 million to reflect the reserves ceded to Wilton Re and recorded ceding commission income of $114 million which was partially offset by the initial ceded premium of $651 million, resulting in a gain of $114 million on the reinsurance of this in-force block of business. The net gain on this transaction of $114 million was transferred to segregated surplus and will be amortized into income as earnings emerge from the business reinsured. Approximately $46 million and $48 million of the net gain was amortized in 2012 and 2011, respectively.

For the second of the two Wilton Re amendments, on April 26, 2011, Harbinger F&G elected the "Raven Springing Amendment" option that committed the Company to cede to Wilton Re all of the business reinsured with Raven Re (the "Raven Block") on or before December 31, 2012, subject to regulatory approval. The Raven Springing Amendment was intended to mitigate the risk associated with Harbinger F&G's obligation under the F&G Stock Purchase Agreement to replace the Raven Re letter of credit facility by December 31, 2012. The recapture of the Raven Block from Raven Re was approved by MIA on September 16, 2011 and the execution of the Raven Springing Amendment was not objected to by MIA on the same date. On October 17, 2011, the Company recaptured all of the business ceded to Raven Re and executed the Raven Springing Amendment effective October 1, 2011.

The Company transferred cash and invested assets totaling $607 million to Wilton Re in connection with the execution of the Raven Springing Amendment. The Company reduced its life insurance reserve liability by $927 million to reflect the reserves ceded to Wilton Re which was partially offset by an initial ceded premium equal to the economic reserves of $427 million and a negative ceding commission of $135 million, resulting in a gain of $365 million on the reinsurance of this in-force block of business. This gain was offset against the loss of $525 million recognized on the recapture of the business from Raven Re since the re-cession of the business to Wilton Re occurred contemporaneously with the recapture of the business from Raven Re.

The Company has a significant concentration of reinsurance with Wilton Re that could have a material impact on the Company's financial position. At December 31, 2012 and December 31, 2011, the reserves ceded to Wilton Re totaled $1,761 million and $1,720 million, respectively. The Company monitors both the financial condition of individual reinsurers and risk concentration arising from similar geographic regions, activities and economic characteristics of reinsurers to reduce the risk of default by such reinsurers. In September 2012, Wilton Re and the Company reached a final agreement on the initial settlements associated with the reinsurance transactions the Company entered into subsequent to Harbinger F&G's acquisition of the Company. The final settlement amounts did not result in any material adjustments to the amounts reflected in the financial statements.

On December 31, 2011, the Company entered into a new reinsurance agreement with Raven Re whereby Raven Re assumed a 10% quota share of the Company's retained liabilities under the return of premium benefit riders. The Company ceded reserves totaling $28 million on a funds withheld basis to Raven Re in exchange for an initial ceding premium of $28 million. No gain or loss was recognized on the initial cession of this in-force business. The Company recorded a liability to Raven Re for the assets segregated to fund the liabilities assumed by Raven Re; no invested assets were transferred to Raven Re.

Effective July 1, 2012, the Company recaptured from Raven Re, the December 31, 2011 reinsurance agreement of the liabilities under the return of premium benefit riders. No gain or loss was recognized on the recapture transaction as the statutory reserves re-established of $30.1 million were offset by the release to the Company of an equal amount of assets from the funds withheld account. The remaining assets in the funds withheld account of $0.3 million were transferred to Raven Re.

On October 5, 2012, the Company recaptured from OM Re the yearly renewable term reinsurance agreement under which OM Re assumed a quota share of the risk that policyholders exercise the "waiver of surrender charge" features on certain deferred annuity policies. The recapture transaction was effective October 1, 2012. In connection with the recapture transaction, the Company paid $1.1 million to OM Re for the outstanding quarterly settlement under the reinsurance agreement. The Company did not transfer to or receive any other assets from OM Re.

The Company simultaneously entered into a reinsurance agreement with Raven Re, to re-cede a similar quota share of the "waiver of surrender charge" risk to Raven Re effective October 1, 2012. The Company did not transfer to or receive any assets from Raven Re in connection with the cession of this business. Raven Re financed the statutory reserves for this business with a letter of credit facility in the amount of $295 million provided by Nomura Bank International plc ("Nomura"), an unaffiliated financial institution. The Company paid Nomura an upfront structuring fee of $2.8 million to establish the letter of credit facility which is recognized as an expense in the Company's Summary of Operations during the fourth quarter of 2012.

The Company realized a loss on the recapture of this business from OM Re equal to the statutory reserves re-established upon recapture of $282 million. The Company realized a gain equal to the reserve credit of $282 million established upon the re-cession of this business to Raven Re. This gain was offset against the loss recognized on the recapture of the business from OM Re since the re-cession of the business to Raven Re occurred contemporaneously with the recapture of the business from OM Re.

On December 31, 2012 the Company entered into a coinsurance agreement with Front Street Re (Cayman) Ltd. ("FSR"), an affiliate of the parent company, under which the Company ceded a 10% quota share of certain in-force annuity business or approximately $1.3 billion of statutory reserves to FSR (the "FSR Coinsurance Agreement"). The annuity business ceded to FSR includes all single premium immediate annuities ("SPIA", including supplementary contracts), deferred annuities ("DA") and fixed indexed annuities ("FIA") issued June 30, 2012 and prior, excluding funding agreements issue to the Federal Home Loan Bank of Atlanta and annuity liabilities assumed by the Company from Ohio National Life Insurance Company. The annuity liabilities ceded to FSR are net of any reinsurance ceded to other reinsurers, including the cession of waiver of surrender charge benefits to Raven Re under the waiver of surrender charge treaty entered into in October 2012. No new business will be ceded to FSR under the FSR Coinsurance Agreement. FSR will receive its quota share of any additional premiums received on the reinsured business. FSR will also participate in any supplementary contracts issued upon annuitization of any reinsured policies at its quota share.

FSR paid the Company an initial ceding commission of $15 million on December 31, 2012. This $15 million pretax gain from the transaction was credited directly to the Company's December 31, 2012 surplus and will be amortized into income as earnings emerge from the business. The December 31, 2012 statement of admitted assets, liabilities, and capital and surplus includes an $18.1 million payable to FSR for the interest maintenance reserve liability ("IMR") associated with the reinsured business as of June 30, 2012. Payment of the IMR is anticipated to occur in May 2013 as part of the settlement of the March 2013 Quarterly Report.

FSR is an unauthorized reinsurer in Maryland and, therefore, the FSR Coinsurance Agreement is on a funds withheld basis and the statutory reserves will be fully collateralized by a funds withheld account. The Company placed bonds and other fixed income securities with a statutory statement value of $1.2 billion in a separate custodial account over which the Company retains control and has title to all assets held in this account.

The transfer of $1.2 billion of assets to the funds withheld account represents partial payment by the Company to FSR of the initial premium due to FSR under the FSR Coinsurance Agreement. The total initial premium due to FSR is equal to the statutory reserves ceded to FSR on December 31, 2012 of $1.3 billion plus the deposit-type contract reserves of $77.6 million and the IMR liability ceded to FSR of $18.1 million (calculated as of June 30, 2012). The assets initially transferred into the funds withheld account also included accrued interest on the bonds and other fixed income securities of $11.8 million and a net hedge settlement amount of $17.0 million. As of December 31, 2012, the Company was required to transfer cash of $89.1 million to the funds withheld account to satisfy the remainder of the initial premium due to FSR (excluding the portion of the initial premium represented by the IMR liability ceded to FSR).

The reinsurance agreement was approved by the MIA on December 13, 2012. MIA also reviewed and approved the investment management agreement between the Company, FSR and HGI Asset Management, LLC (the "Investment Manager") under which the assets held in the Funds Withheld Account will be managed.

There were no other significant transactions during 2012 outside of the normal course of business.

D. At December 31, 2012 and 2011, the Company had no admitted assets in accounts receivable for uninsured plans and amounts due from agents. The Company routinely assesses the collectability of these receivables and based upon the Company's experience the potential loss is not material to the Company's financial condition.

E. Business Interruption Insurance Recoveries. - None.

F. State Transferable Tax Credits. - None.

G. Subprime Mortgage Related Risk Exposure

1. Exposure to subprime mortgage risk is defined using market accepted guidelines on FICO scores and documentation. Additionally, the evaluation of securities includes reviewing the quality of the servicer, pool specific statistics, the position of the security within the trust holding the mortgages and the credit enhancement available to protect the principal value of the security being evaluated. Accepted guidelines on FICO scores and documentation include the following characteristics:

   - Loan to values ratios on these loans tend to be higher (80% to 125%).
   - FICO scores are in the lower range (FICO scores range from 300 to 800, 620 and below is typically considered subprime).
   - No documentation or low documentation
   - The borrower's rate at the time of origination is much higher than the conforming rate at the time which is referred to as the spread at the time of origination

- Debt to income ratios on these borrowers also tend to be higher
- In the past there were some issuers whose sole origination was subprime loans
- Since poorer quality loans typically have higher losses, the amount of subordination on a package of subprime loans is much higher than that of prime collateral.

Risk exposure associated with subprime market fluctuation and cash flow deterioration is managed by actively monitoring and trading securities in the asset-backed securities ("ABS") sector. The decision to sell the security and realize the loss or hold the security and recognize the unrealized loss is dependent upon the active monitoring of the portfolio. This coupled with subprime being limited to ABS which securitizes subprime mortgages with credit enhancement features mitigates potential exposure.

2. Direct exposure to subprime mortgages through investments. – None.

3. The Company has direct exposure through other investments.

	Actual Cost	Book/Adjusted Carrying Value (excluding interest)	Fair Value	Other Than Temporary Impairment Losses Recognized
a. Subprime Residential mortgage-backed securities	$ 153,239,653	$ 153,344,238	$ 156,960,051	$ 4,031,307

4. Underwriting exposure to subprime mortgage risk through Mortgage Guaranty or Financial Guaranty insurance coverage: - None.

H. Retained Assets

(1) Retained Asset Accounts represent the settlement of life insurance and annuity proceeds that are retained by the Company for the benefit of the beneficiaries. The beneficiary has complete control of and immediate access to the funds in this account. Interest rates paid to the Retained Asset account holders during 2012 were 1.0% from January 1, 2012 through December 31, 2012. The Company does not charge fees related to the Retained Asset Accounts.

The balances in the tables below include the accounts of the Company's subsidiary, FGLICNY, as their accounts are held and administered by the Company. FGLICNY transferred cash equal to the life insurance or annuity proceeds to the Company when the beneficiary elected the Retained Asset Account settlement option, therefore, the Company reports the liability for FGLICNY's Retained Asset Accounts on its Balance Sheet. In November 2009, FGLICNY discontinued offering the Retained Asset Account as a settlement option.

(2) The following table presents the number of and outstanding balances for Retained Asset Accounts by length of time the accounts have been opened:

30. Premium Deficiency Reserves – Not applicable

31. Reserves for Life Contracts and Annuity Contracts

1. The Company waives deduction of deferred fractional premiums upon death of the insured and returns any portion of the final premium beyond the date of death. Surrender values are not promised in excess of the legally computed reserves.

2. The extra reserve for table rated extra premiums on permanent insurance is based on the extra premium and the year of issue of the contract. Factors varying from 0.20 for the first policy year to 6.64 for the twentieth policy year are applied to the premiums. The extra reserves secured in this manner are approximately equivalent to the additional reserves needed for substandard mortality and are assumed to represent the increased mortality of these substandard risks.

   The extra reserve liability for table rated extra premiums on term insurance and for flat extra premiums on all insurance is taken as one-half of the extra annual premium for the insurance in force with these extra premiums. This is done on the assumption that the risks covered by the extra premium will have extra mortality that remains constant or decreases with increase in attained age.

   Mean reserves on our currently sold term insurance are based on appropriate multiples of standard rates of mortality.

3. At December 31, 2012, the Company had $9,239,139,342 of insurance in force for which the gross premiums are less than the net premiums according to the standard of valuation set by the State of Maryland. Reserves to cover the above insurance totaled $130,053,678 at December 31, 2012 and are reported in Exhibit 5, Miscellaneous Reserve Section, line 0700001.

4. The Tabular Interest (page 7, Line 4) for life insurance products has been determined by formula as described in the instructions for Page 7. The interest for annuity products has been determined from the basic data for the calculation of policy reserves.

   The Tabular Less Actual Reserve Released (page 7, Line 5) for life insurance products has been determined by formula as described in the instructions for Page 7. The amount for annuity products has been determined from the basic data for the calculation of policy reserves.

The Tabular Cost (page 7, line 9) for life insurance products has been determined by formula as described in the instructions for Page 7. The cost of the annuity products has been determined from the basic data for the calculation of policy reserves.

5. The Tabular Interest on funds not involving life contingencies for each valuation rate of interest is approximated based on cash flow interest credits as well as valuation rate of interest held at the beginning and end of the year of valuation.

G. Federal Home Loan Bank Agreements

1. The Company is a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Atlanta (the "FHLB"). Through its membership, the Company issued funding agreements to the FHLB in exchange for cash advances in 2003, 2004 and 2005. On December 14, 2012 and December 28, 2011, the Company entered into additional funding agreements for $200,000,000 each in cash advances with the FHLB. The Company uses these funds in an investment spread strategy, consistent with its other investment spread operations and, therefore, accounts for these funds in accordance with SSAP No. 52, "Deposit-Type Contracts", consistent with the Company's other deposit-type contracts. The Company did not use these funds for its general operations. Any funds obtained in the future and used in the Company's general operations would be accounted for in accordance with SSAP No. 15, "Borrowed Money".

The following table presents the amount of FHLB stock owned, collateral pledged, and total reserves, assets and liabilities related to the funding agreements issued to the FHLB:

The MIA approved the Company's Plan of Operation for a Separate Account to be used as a funding medium for single premium funding agreements issued by the Company to the FHLB. The FHLB Separate Account was established pursuant to Sections 16-113 and 5-512(d), (g), (h), (i), (j) and (k) of the Insurance Article of the Annotated Code of Maryland. The MIA also approved the form of the funding agreements to be issued to the FHLB. The funding agreements (i.e., immediate annuity contracts without life contingencies) provide a guaranteed stream of payments. Reserves are based on the present value of the income payments and are calculated in accordance with Actuarial Guideline IX. The valuation interest rate, in accordance with the Standard Valuation law, is derived from the issue year method and a guaranteed duration equal to the number of years from issue to the date the first payment begins. In accordance with the FHLB Separate Account Plan of Operation, the assets supporting the funding agreement liabilities are held in the FHLB Separate Account at amortized cost. All of the FHLB Separate Account assets are pledged as collateral to secure the FHLB funding agreement liabilities.
