(4) The following table presents the unrealized loss aging for the Company's investments in loan-backed and structured securities at September 30, 2013 by length of time the security was in a continuous unrealized loss position.

a) The aggregate amount of unrealized losses:

1.	Less than 12 Months	$ 16,035,784
2.	12 Months or Longer	$ 3,619,152

b) The aggregate related fair value of securities with unrealized losses:

1.	Less than 12 Months	$ 624,331,101
2.	12 Months or Longer	$ 117,713,035

(5) If the fair value of a loan-backed or structured security is less than its amortized cost basis at the balance sheet date, the Company determines whether the following circumstances exist and, if so, recognizes an- other-than-temporary impairment loss:

- If the Company intends to sell the security or does not have the intent and ability to retain the security until its amortized cost is recovered, the security is other-than-temporarily impaired. A realized loss is recognized for the entire difference between the security's amortized cost and its fair value at the balance-sheet date.

- If the Company does not expect to recover the entire amortized cost from the present value of the security's future cash flows, it cannot assert it has the ability to recover the security's amortized cost even though it has no intent to sell and has the intent and ability to retain. The security is therefore other-than-temporarily impaired. A realized loss is recognized for the non-interest-related decline, which is the difference between the security's amortized cost and the present value of cash flows expected to be collected.

20. Fair Value Measurements

A. The Company's measurement of fair value is based on assumptions used by market participants in pricing the asset or liability, which may include inherent risk, restrictions on the sale or use of an asset or non-performance risk. The Company's estimate of an exchange price is the price in an orderly transaction between market participants to sell the asset or transfer the liability ("exit price") in the principal market, or the most advantageous market in the absence of a principal market, for that asset or liability, as opposed to the price that would be paid to acquire the asset or receive a liability ("entry price").

(3) The Company's policy is to recognize transfers in and transfers out of the fair value hierarchy levels as of the beginning of the year of the event or change in circumstances that caused the transfer.

(4) Valuation techniques and inputs used in Fair Value Measurements for Level 2:

Bonds and preferred stocks – The fair value of bonds and preferred stocks is based upon valuations obtained from an independent pricing service. The primary inputs are observable and include benchmark yields, reported trades, broker/dealer quotes, issuer spread, two-sided markets, benchmark securities, bids, offers and reference data including market research publications. The independent pricing service also evaluates new issue data, monthly payment information and collateral performance. The independent pricing service uses spreads and other information solicited from Wall Street buy and sell side sources, including primary and secondary dealers, portfolio managers and research analysts. The primary inputs used by the independent pricing service are observable and, therefore, the investments are classified as Level 2.

Common Stock - Unaffiliated - The Company's investment in unaffiliated common stock that is reported at fair value and classified in Level 2 represents the Company's investment in Federal Home Loan Bank of Atlanta ("FHLB") common stock. Based upon the level of transactions with the FHLB, the Company is required to maintain FHLB stock. The fair value of this stock is set equal to its cost, which represents the price at which the FHLB will repurchase the stock.

Derivative Instruments - The fair value of derivative assets is based upon valuation pricing models and represents what the Company would expect to receive or pay at the balance sheet date if the Company cancelled the options, entered into offsetting positions, or exercised the options. The fair value of futures contracts at the balance sheet date represents the cumulative unsettled variation margin. Fair values for these instruments are determined externally by an independent actuarial firm using market observable inputs, including interest rates, yield curve volatilities, etc. and therefore, the assets are classified as Level 2. Credit risk related to the counterparty is considered when estimating the fair values of these derivatives. However, the Company is largely protected by collateral arrangements with counterparties.

Valuation techniques and inputs used in Fair Value Measurements for Level 3:

In certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, an investment's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lower level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Company's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the investment.

When a determination is made to classify an asset or liability within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy, the determination is based upon the significance of the unobservable inputs to the overall fair value measurement. Because certain securities trade in less liquid or illiquid markets with limited or no pricing information, the determination of fair value for these securities is inherently more difficult. However, Level 3 fair value investments may include, in addition to the unobservable or Level 3 inputs, observable components, which are components that are actively quoted or can be validated to market-based sources.

Bonds and preferred stocks: Fair values for bonds and preferred stocks are based on valuations obtained from an independent pricing service or broker quotes. The independent pricing service's valuations are based on market data and utilize pricing models that vary by asset class and incorporate available trade, bid and other market information and, for structured securities, cash flow and loan performance data when available. The primary inputs are observable and include benchmark yields, reported trades, broker/dealer quotes, issuer spread, two-sided markets, benchmark securities, bids, offers and reference data including market research publications. The independent pricing service also evaluates new issue data, monthly payment information and collateral performance. The independent pricing service uses spreads and other information solicited from Wall Street buy and sell side sources, including primary and secondary dealers, portfolio managers and research analysts. The Company uses the valuations provided by the independent pricing service as the estimated fair value of the security when available. If the independent pricing service is not able to provide a valuation, the Company obtains a broker quote and uses the broker quote as an estimate of fair value.

Common stocks - unaffiliated: The Company's investment in unaffiliated common stocks is comprised of FHLB common stock and mutual funds. Based upon the level of transactions with the FHLB, the Company is required to maintain FHLB stock. The fair value of the FHLB common stock is set equal to its cost, which represents the price at which the FHLB will repurchase the stock. The mutual funds in which the Company invests are actively-traded institutional and retail mutual fund investments. The fair value for the mutual fund investments is based on the values provided by the respective mutual fund companies and represents the value the Company would have received if it withdrew its investment on the balance sheet date.

Mortgage loans and policy loans: Fair values for policy loans are estimated using discounted cash flow analysis, using interest rates currently being offered for loans with similar credit risk. Loans with similar characteristics are aggregated for purposes of the calculations. The carrying value for mortgage loans approximates the fair value.

Derivative instruments: The fair value of options is based upon valuation pricing models and represents what the Company would expect to receive or pay at the balance sheet date if the Company cancelled the options, entered into offsetting positions, or exercised the options. The fair value of futures contracts at the balance sheet date represents the cumulative unsettled variation margin (open trade equity net of cash settlements). Fair values for these instruments are determined externally by an independent actuarial firm using market observable inputs, including interest rates, yield curve volatilities and other factors.

Surplus debentures: The fair values of surplus debentures are based on valuations obtained from independent pricing services or broker quotes.

Separate account invested assets: FHLB separate account invested assets are comprised of bonds and short-term investments. The fair value of the bonds held in the FHLB separate account are based on valuations obtained from an independent pricing service or broker quotes using the same methods and inputs described above for "bonds and preferred stocks".

Other assets and other liabilities: Other assets and liabilities considered financial instruments are generally of a short-term nature, and it is assumed the carrying value approximates fair value.

Deposit-type contracts: Fair values for the Company's liabilities under deposit-type contracts are estimated using discounted cash flow calculations based on interest rates currently being offered for like contracts with similar maturities.

22. Subsequent Event

On November 1, 2013, the Company re-domesticated from Maryland to Iowa. After re-domestication, the Company elected to apply Iowa-prescribed accounting practices that permit Iowa-domiciled insurers to report equity call options used to economically hedge fixed indexed annuities ("FIA") index credits at amortized cost and to calculate FIA statutory reserves such that index credit returns will be included in the reserve only after crediting to the annuity contract. The Company anticipates that application of these prescribed accounting practices will result in an increase in its surplus, total adjusted capital and risk based capital. Also, the Iowa Insurance Division granted the Company a permitted accounting practice to reclassify its negative unassigned surplus to additional paid in capital as of April 6, 2011, the date the Company's parent, Fidelity & Guaranty Life Holdings ("FGLH"), was acquired by Harbinger F&G, LLC, which will have the effect of setting the Company's unassigned surplus to zero as of this date. Under Iowa laws and regulations, the Company may only pay dividends out of earned surplus (unassigned surplus) and the dividends paid in any 12-month period are limited to the greater of 10% of surplus or net gain from operations. The Company anticipates that the amount of dividends it may pay without prior regulatory approval under Iowa laws and regulations will increase as a result of the application of the permitted and prescribed statutory accounting practices.

In a letter dated September 24, 2013, the Iowa Insurance Division requested that the Company agree that neither Mr. Philip A. Falcone nor any employees of Harbinger Capital Partners, LLC shall serve as an officer or director of the Company or FGL, nor may they be involved in any investment decisions for the Company or any funds withheld account that supports credit for reinsurance for the Company for a five year period. Mr. Falcone is the ultimate controlling person of the Company through his ownership of a controlling interest in Harbinger Capital Partners, LLC and other entities within the Harbinger Group. The Company may request the Iowa Insurance Division to lift these restrictions after a period of five years. The Iowa Division also requested the Company's Audit Committee meet certain independence requirements within 3 months of a contemplated initial public offering by its intermediate parent. The Company agreed to these requests. In addition, in a commitment made to the

New York Department of Financial Services, Mr. Falcone agreed to recuse himself from participating in any vote of the board of HGI relating to the election or appointment of officers or directors of the Company.

23. Reinsurance

C. Commutation of Ceded Reinsurance

Wilton Re has agreed to pay the Company a rescission settlement of $6,428,226. In addition, The Company will re-establish the $4,488,674 reserve liability previously ceded to Wilton Re in connection with this business. The Company recognized a net gain on the rescission of $1,939,552.
