A. Accounting Practices

The financial statements of Fidelity & Guaranty Life Insurance Company (the "Company" or "FGLIC") are presented on the basis of accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Iowa Department of Commerce, Insurance Division (the "Iowa Insurance Division").

The Iowa Insurance Division recognizes only statutory accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the State of Iowa for determining and reporting the financial condition and results of operations of an insurance company and for determining its solvency under Iowa Insurance Law. The National Association of Insurance Commissioners' ("NAIC") Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual ("NAIC SAP") has been adopted as a component of prescribed or permitted practices by the State of Iowa.

In connection with its re-domestication to Iowa and pursuant to SSAP No. 72, "Surplus and Quasi-reorganizations", the Iowa Insurance Division granted the Company a permitted statutory accounting practice to reclassify its negative unassigned surplus balance of $805,816,723 to additional paid in capital as of April 6, 2011, the date of acquisition of the Company by Harbinger Group Inc. ("HGI"), which had the effect of setting the Company's statutory unassigned surplus to zero as of this date. The Iowa Insurance Division waived the six-month timeframe contained in SSAP No. 72 in connection with a change in control.

Upon re-domestication to Iowa, the Company elected to use the alternative accounting practices prescribed by 191 IAC 97 for indexed annuity products ("FIA Products"). Under these alternative accounting practices prescribed by 191 IAC 97 "Accounting for Certain Derivative Instruments Used to Hedge the Growth in Interest Credited for Indexed Insurance Products and Accounting for the Indexed Insurance Products Reserve", the call option derivative instruments that hedge the growth in interest credited on index products are accounted for at amortized cost with the corresponding amortization recorded as a decrease to net investment income and indexed annuity reserves are calculated based on Standard Valuation Law and Actuarial Guideline XXXV assuming the market value of the call options associated with the current index term is zero regardless of the observable market value for such options. The Company's FIA Products constitute "indexed annuity products" and the derivatives hedging the Company's FIA Products constitute "eligible derivative assets" as defined in 191 IAC 97.3. As such, the Company elected to account for such eligible derivative assets at amortized cost pursuant to 191 IAC 97.4 and to determine indexed annuity product reserve calculations based on Actuarial Guideline XXXV, assuming the market value of the eligible derivative assets associated with the current interest crediting period is zero, and reflect the interest credit in the reserve when realized based on the actual performance of the relevant external index or indices pursuant of 191 IAC 97.5. This change in accounting practice is effective retroactively to January 1, 2013. The effect of this election at January 1, 2013 is an increase in surplus of $13,557,555 and is reflected in the Statement of Capital and Surplus as a cumulative effect of changes in accounting principles. The cumulative effect adjustment is comprised of a decrease in reserves of $58,605,860, an increase in net deferred tax assets of $24,742,376, and an increase in the Company's investment in affiliated common stock of $18,745,968, partially offset by a decrease in the equity option assets of $70,692,501 and an increase in the current tax liability of $17,844,148.

The increase in the Company's investment in affiliated common stock represents an increase in the statutory surplus of its subsidiary, Raven Reinsurance Company ("Raven Re") due to a decrease in the FIA reserve liability ceded to Raven Re under the waiver of surrender charge ("WSC") reinsurance treaty. In accordance with the WSC treaty, the Company will determine the reserve credit for the waiver of surrender charge risk ceded to the Raven Re, and Raven Re will determine its assumed reserves, under statutory accounting principles for the state of domicile of the Company which includes the election by the Company to follow the alternative accounting practices prescribed by 191 IAC 97. The Commissioner of the Vermont Department of Financial Regulation (the "Vermont Department") approved and permitted Raven Re to also follow the alternative accounting practices prescribed by 191 IAC. Raven Re's surplus increased $18,745,968 at January 1, 2013 as a result of adopting 191 IAC 97 which is comprised of a decrease in its reserve liability of $28,839,916 and an increase in its current tax liability of $10,093,948.

If the Company had not elected the adoption of the alternative prescribed accounting practice, statutory surplus would be decreased by $11,516,823 and $0 as of December 31, 2013 and 2012, respectively. Additionally, net income would be decreased by $118,989,225 and $0 respectively, for the years then ended. The Company's risk-based capital ("RBC") would not have triggered a regulatory event had it not adopted the alternative prescribed accounting practice described above.

A reconciliation of the Company's net income and capital and surplus between NAIC SAP and practices prescribed and permitted by the Iowa Insurance Division is shown below:

The Company has no other statutory accounting practices that differ from those of NAIC SAP other than 191 IAC 97 and the application of SSAP 72 after the expiration of the six-month timeframe prescribed in SSAP 72.

At December 31, 2013 and 2012, the Company's investment in affiliated common stock for Raven Re reflects the subsidiary's effect of the Vermont Department permitted accounting practice for Raven Re's letter of credit ("LOC") as an admitted asset for $270,000,000 and $295,000,000, respectively. The LOC was secured by Raven Re to finance the statutory reserves resulting from the Raven Re WSC reinsurance treaty, effective October 2012 entered in with the Company. In accordance with the LOC agreement, the letter of credit decreases $6,250,000 on the first day of each quarter.

B. Use of Estimates in the Preparation of the Financial Statements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Statutory Accounting Principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities. It also requires disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

C. Accounting Policy

Life premiums are recognized as income over the premium paying period of the related policies. Annuity considerations are recognized as revenue when received. Expenses incurred in connection with acquiring new insurance business, including acquisition costs such as sales commissions, are charged to operations as incurred.

The amount of dividends to be paid to policyholders is determined annually by the Company's Board of Directors. The aggregate amount of policyholders' dividends is related to actual interest, mortality, morbidity, and expense experience for the year and judgment as to the appropriate level of statutory surplus to be retained by the Company.

In addition, the Company uses the following accounting policies:

(1) Short-term investments are stated at amortized cost.
(2) Bonds not backed by other loans are stated primarily at amortized cost using the interest method, except for those bonds deemed to be other-than-temporarily impaired that are written down to estimated fair value and those bonds rated NAIC 6 which are carried at the lower of amortized cost or fair value.
(3) Common stocks are stated at fair value except that investments in stocks of uncombined subsidiaries and affiliates in which the Company has an interest of 10% or more are carried on the equity basis. (See (6) below)
(4) Preferred stocks are stated at amortized cost, except those preferred stocks rated NAIC 4 or lower, which are carried at the lower of amortized cost or fair value, or those preferred stocks deemed to be other-than-temporarily impaired which are written down to estimated fair value.
(5) Mortgage loans on real estate are stated at the unpaid principal balance.
(6) Loan-backed and structured securities are stated at either amortized cost or, for those securities rated NAIC 6, the lower of amortized cost or fair value. Loan-backed and structured securities that are deemed to be other-than-temporarily impaired are written down through the statement of operations to fair value or to the amount of the discounted estimated future cash flows. See Note 5D (5) for the circumstances that result in the recognition of an other-than-temporary impairment loss. The retrospective adjustment method was used to value all securities except for interest only securities or securities where the yield had become negative. These securities were valued using the prospective method.

(7) The Company's insurance subsidiaries are reported based upon the equity in the underlying audited statutory net assets, and the Company's non-insurance subsidiaries are reported based upon the equity in the audited GAAP net assets adjusted to a statutory basis. The Company's investments in non-insurance subsidiaries for which audited GAAP financial statements are not available are non-admitted.

(8) The Company has ownership interests in limited partnerships and limited liability companies, including federal and state sponsored Low Income Housing Tax Credit ("LIHTC") properties. The Company carries its LIHTC investments at amortized cost in accordance with SSAP No. 93, "Accounting for Low Income Housing Tax Credit Property Investments." State sponsored LIHTC investments that are not in compliance with SSAP No. 93 and other investments in limited partnerships and limited liability companies are based on the underlying GAAP equity of the investee in accordance with SSAP No. 48, "Joint Ventures, Partnerships and Limited Liability Companies".

(9) Equity call options which economically hedge the equity linked liability underlying its equity indexed universal life insurance ("EIUL") products and all futures contracts are stated at fair value. Effective January 1, 2013, the Company elected to use the alternative accounting practices prescribed by 191 IAC 97 for the equity call options which economically hedge the Company's FIA Products. Under the alternative accounting practices prescribed by 191 IAC 97, the equity call options are accounted for at amortized cost with the corresponding amortization recorded as a decrease to net investment income. See Note 1A.

(10) The Company anticipates investment income as a factor in the premium deficiency calculation, in accordance with SSAP No. 54, "Individual and Group Accident and Health Contracts".

(11) Management uses conservative methods based on prior experience to estimate the liabilities for losses and loss/claim adjustment expenses for accident and health contracts.

(12) There were no changes in the capitalization policy during 2013.

(13) There are no pharmaceutical rebate receivables.

2. Accounting Changes and Corrections of Errors

A. During 2012, the Company strengthened reserves for single premium immediate annuities with life contingent benefits. Due to the prolonged period of low interest rates, the Company used a program of selling longer dated assets to realize the substantial gains embedded in the market values. This was primarily due to an approved tax strategy that was mainly affected in the fourth quarter of 2012. At the same time to mitigate the risk of rising interest rates the Company has elected to reinvest the proceeds of these transactions in a manner that shortens the overall duration. The net result is that, while the Company has strengthened its position relative to rising interest rates, it has decreased its overall future yields in a static rate environment, even after the recognition of the IMR effect. Since these actions had decreased the relative value of the statutory reserves in comparison to the present value of the future benefits, the Company changed its interest rate assumptions and increased its reserves for certain single premium immediate annuities by $20,550,411, which was reported in Exhibit 5A of the Company's 2012 Annual Statement. This change in valuation due to a change in interest rate assumptions is an accounting change as defined in SSAP No. 3, "Accounting Changes and Corrections of Errors", and is reflected as a net adjustment to beginning surplus at January 1, 2012.

B. The Company adopted SSAP No. 101, "Income Taxes, A Replacement of SSAP No. 10R and SSAP No. 10", effective January 1, 2012. As a result of adoption, the Company reclassified the additional deferred tax assets admitted under SSAP No. 10R of $34,355,392 from special surplus funds to unassigned funds and reported the increase in unassigned funds as a cumulative effect of changes in accounting principle. Other than this reclassification within total surplus, the adoption of SSAP No. 101 did not have an effect on the Company's results of operations and capital and surplus.

C. The Company adopted alternative accounting practices prescribed by 191 IAC 97 for indexed annuity products and related equity call option derivative assets as described in Note 1A.

(3) During the year ended December 31, 2013, the Company recognized other-than-temporary impairments on the following loan-backed and structured securities as the present value of cash flows expected to be collected are less than the amortized cost basis of these securities:

1 CUSIP			2 Book/Adjusted Carrying Value Amortized Cost Before Current Period OTTI	3 Present Value Projected Cash Flows	4 Recognized Other-Than-Temporary Impairment	5 Amortized Cost After Other-Than-Temporary Impairment	6 Fair Value at the Date of OTTI Recognition	7 Financial Statement Reporting Period
126673	A2	8	200,736	100,266	(100,470)	100,266	100,266	12/31/2013
Totals			200,736	100,266	(100,470)	100,266	100,266

(4) The following table presents the unrealized loss aging for the Company's investments in loan-backed and structured securities at December 31, 2013 by length of time the security was in a continuous unrealized loss position.

a) The aggregate amount of unrealized losses:

1. Less than 12 Months $ 16,929,000
2. 12 Months or Longer $ 5,281,801

b) The aggregate related fair value of securities with unrealized losses:

1. Less than 12 Months $ 832,423,957
2. 12 Months or Longer $ 160,147,652

(5) If the fair value of a loan-backed or structured security is less than its amortized cost basis at the balance sheet date, the Company determines whether the following circumstances exist and, if so, recognizes an-other-than-temporary impairment loss:

- If the Company intends to sell the security or does not have the intent and ability to retain the security until its amortized cost is recovered, the security is other-than-temporarily impaired. A realized loss is recognized for the entire difference between the security's amortized cost and its fair value at the balance-sheet date.

- If the Company does not expect to recover the entire amortized cost from the present value of the security's future cash flows, it cannot assert it has the ability to recover the security's amortized cost even though it has no intent to sell and has the intent and ability to retain. The security is therefore other-than-temporarily impaired. A realized loss is recognized for the non-interest-related decline, which is the difference between the security's amortized cost and the present value of cash flows expected to be collected.

E. Repurchase Agreements and Securities Lending Transactions – None.

The Company does not have any investments in real estate.

7. Investment Income

A. Due and accrued income is excluded from surplus on the following bases:

All investment income due and accrued with amounts that are over 90 days past due with the exception of mortgage loans in default.

B. The total amount excluded was $0.

8. Derivative Instruments

A. The derivative instruments used by the Company expose the Company to potential credit loss in the event of nonperformance by counterparties. The amount of exposure is the fair value for such agreement with each counterparty if the fair value is in the Company's favor. The credit risk associated with these agreements is minimized by purchasing agreements from counterparties with NAIC designations of "1." Additionally, the Company maintains a policy requiring all derivative contracts to be governed by International Swaps and Derivatives Association ("ISDA") Master Agreements. The Company is required to maintain minimum ratings as a matter of routine practice in negotiating ISDA agreements. Under some ISDA agreements, the Company has agreed to maintain certain financial strength ratings. A downgrade below these levels could result in termination of the open derivative contracts between the parties, at which time any amounts payable by the Company or the counterparty would be dependent on the market value of the underlying derivative contracts. In certain transactions, the Company and the counterparty have entered into a collateral support agreement requiring either party to post collateral when the net exposures exceed pre-determined thresholds. These thresholds vary by counterparty and credit rating. Downgrades of the Company have given multiple counterparties the right to terminate ISDA agreements. The agreements have not been terminated, although the counterparties have reserved the right to terminate the agreements at any time.

At December 31, 2013, the total exposure for options owned was $290.3 million and the maximum exposure with any individual counterparty was $103.1 million. The total notional amount of the options held at December 31, 2013 was $6,499 million. At December 31, 2013 the Company held $74.7 million of collateral to mitigate the exposure of the options owned. The Company also had 1,190 open futures contracts with a potential exposure of $5.3 million at December 31, 2013.

The derivatives used by the Company expose the Company to market risk (market movements). The Company expects that movements in the fair value of that portion of the derivative portfolio constituting economic hedges would be offset by changes in the fair value of the hedged items.

Cash requirements for futures contracts include the initial and variation margin requirements on open futures contracts.

B. The Company uses static and dynamic hedging strategies to hedge the equity linked liability underlying its FIA products and its EIUL products. Exchange traded equity indexed and volatility linked futures and options and over the counter options are used to hedge market exposures of the liabilities with the objective of offsetting fair value changes and to manage the effect of policyholder behavior such as the option to switch after annual renewals. The indices underlying the futures and options are the same indices referenced by the FIAs and EIULs. The futures and options are matched to the liabilities with respect to equity index movements frequently. Other market exposures are hedged periodically depending on market conditions and the Company's risk tolerance. Static and dynamic hedging exposes the Company to the risk that un-hedged market exposures result in divergence between changes in the fair value of the liabilities and the hedging assets. The Company uses a variety of techniques including direct estimation of market sensitivities and value-at-risk to monitor this risk daily. The Company intends to continue to adjust the strategy as product design evolves, and as market conditions and the Company's risk tolerance change.

C. Call options hedging FIA Products are recorded at amortized cost, effective January 1, 2013, as described in Note 1A above, with amortization recognized as a reduction in net investment income on a straight line basis over the term of the call options. Realized gains and losses on the call options hedging the FIA products are also recognized in net investment income.

Call options hedging EIUL products are recorded at fair value. The fair value of options that hedge EIUL products are based upon quoted market prices and valuation pricing models and represent what the Company would expect to receive or pay at the balance sheet date if the Company cancelled the options, entered into offsetting option positions, or exercised the options.

Futures contracts are valued at fair value each reporting period with changes in fair value recorded as unrealized gains or losses and included in surplus in accordance with SSAP 86, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging, Income Generation, and Replication (Synthetic Asset) Transactions". The fair value of futures contracts at the balance sheet date represents the cumulative unsettled variation margin. Call options hedging the EIUL products are marked to market through surplus (fair value accounting). Realized gains (losses) on the call options hedging the EIUL products are included in the Interest Maintenance Reserve and amortized into income over the remaining duration of the derivative contract. Long option positions are included in invested assets. Initial and variation margins on futures contracts are included in cash.

The Company does not have reportable information for items D through F.

F. The Company has an agreement with an affiliate, FGLBS, for costs incurred on its behalf. These costs include routine operating expenses incurred in the normal conduct of business such as shared home office facilities, information technology, finance, legal, actuarial, human resources and general overhead costs, including salaries and benefits. These costs are generally determined on the basis of use by the Company and are included in expenses as incurred. Also, the Company shares its office facilities and personnel with its subsidiaries and other affiliates. Such shared costs and expenses are allocated to its subsidiaries and other affiliates based on time and usage studies.

G. See Note 10A.

H. The Company does not own shares of an upstream intermediate entity or ultimate parent either directly or indirectly.

I. Investments in subsidiary, controlled and affiliated companies:

On October 5, 2012, the Company recaptured from Old Mutual Reassurance (Ireland) Ltd. ("OM Re") the yearly renewable term reinsurance agreement under which OM Re assumed a quota share of the risk that policyholders exercise the "waiver of surrender charge" features on certain deferred annuity policies. The recapture transaction was effective October 1, 2012. The Company simultaneously entered into a reinsurance agreement with Raven Re, to re-cede a similar quota share of the "waiver of surrender charge" risk to Raven Re effective October 1, 2012. As a result of this transaction the Company's investment in affiliated common stock for Raven Re reflects the subsidiary's effect of the permitted accounting practice for its LOC as an admitted asset for $170,000,000 and $195,000,000 as of December 31, 2013 and 2012, respectively.

(1) The Company owns 100% of the stock of FGLICNY and Raven Re.
(2) There are no quoted subsidiary market values.
(3) The assets, liabilities and results of operations as of and for the period ending December 31, 2013, are as follows (amounts in thousands):

The Company did not have any borrowed money outstanding during 2013.

12. Retirement Plans, Deferred Compensation, Postemployment Benefits and Compensated Absences and Other Postretirement Benefit Plans.

No extraordinary dividends may be paid without prior approval of the Iowa Insurance Administration. In addition, no dividends may be paid except from the earned profits arising from the Company's business, which does not include contributed capital or contributed surplus. There are no other restrictions placed on the portion of the Company's profits that may be paid as ordinary dividends to stockholders.

4) An Ordinary dividend in the amount of $40,000,000 was paid on July 17, 2013 by the Company to its parent company, FGLH.

8) No stock is held by the Company for special purposes.

9) The Company had no changes in special surplus funds during the year ended December 31, 2013.

10) The portion of unassigned funds (surplus) represented by cumulative net unrealized gains was $203,955,132 at December 31, 2013.

1. On December 31, 2009, the Company issued a surplus note (the "2009 Surplus Note") to its parent, FGLH in the principal amount of $30,000,000. Principal and interest payments are payable out of the surplus of the Company and require the prior written approval of the Iowa Insurance Division. Interest accrues on the 2009 Surplus Note at the rate of 6% per annum, with interest payments made semi-annually subject to the Company having sufficient surplus and obtaining the approval of the Iowa Insurance Division. The 2009 Surplus Note may be prepaid in whole or in part at any time, plus accrued interest to the date of prepayment, without premium or penalty subject to the Company having sufficient surplus and obtaining the approval of the Iowa Insurance Division. The unpaid principal balance matures on December 31, 2019. The 2009 Surplus Note will be automatically extended from year to year if the Company has insufficient surplus or does not obtain the approval of the Iowa Insurance Division to effect the repayment. In 2013, interest paid on the 2009 Surplus Note by the Company totaled $1,800,000.

2. On March 31, 2013, the Company issued an additional surplus note to its parent, FGLH, in the principal amount of $195,000,000 (the "2013 Surplus Note"). On May 8, 2013, the MIA granted the Company approval to execute the 2013 Surplus Note. FGLH funded the 2013 Surplus Note using a portion of the proceeds received from approximately $300,000,000 of Senior Notes due in 2021, which FGLH issued on March 27, 2013. The Company received $195,000,000 in cash from FGLH on May 10, 2013. Principal and interest payments are payable out of the surplus of the Company and require the prior written approval of the Iowa Insurance Division, following the Company's re-domestication as described in Note IA. In 2013, interest paid on the 2013 Surplus Note by the Company totaled $6,337,500.

12) The impact of any restatement due to prior quasi-reorganizations is as follows:

Year	Change in Surplus	Change in Gross Paid-in and Contributed Surplus
2011	$0	$(805,816,723)

13) Quasi-reorganization

In connection with its re-domestication to Iowa and pursuant to SSAP No. 72 quasi-reorganization, the Iowa Insurance Division granted the Company a permitted statutory accounting practice to reclassify its negative unassigned surplus balance of $805,816,723 to additional paid in capital as of April 6, 2011, the date of acquisition of the Company by HGI, which had the effect of setting the Company's statutory unassigned surplus to zero as of this date. The Iowa Insurance Division waived the six-month timeframe contained in SSAP No. 72 in connection with this change in control.

14. Contingencies

A. The Company had no material contingent liabilities at December 31, 2013 other than the potential assessments disclosed in Note 14B below.

There are no commitments or contingent commitments related to LIHTC properties investments.

B. (1) The Company is assessed amounts by the state guaranty funds to cover losses to policyholders of insolvent insurance companies. Those mandatory assessments may be partially recovered through a reduction in future premium tax in certain states.

The Company received updated information in 2013 of potential assessments from the National Organization of Life & Health Insurance Guaranty Associations ("NOLHGA"). The Company has recorded a potential liability related to its share of the estimated guaranty fund assessments as provided by NOLHGA in the amount of $4.4 million. The data provided by NOLHGA utilizes estimates and does not reflect the actual timing of future assessments.

This liability could change should any new insolvencies arise. Management reviews open insolvencies annually to determine if the guaranty fund accrual is sufficient.

The Company has established an asset related to future premium tax deductions for this liability in the amount of $4.6 million.

Indicate whether claim count information is disclosed per claim or per claimant

(f) Per Claim [ ] (g) Per Claimant [X]

E. The Company is routinely engaged in litigation in the normal course of business, including defending claims for policy benefits and punitive damages. Certain claims are asserted as class actions, purporting to represent a group of similarly situated individuals. In the opinion of management and in light of existing insurance and other potential indemnification, reinsurance and established reserves, such litigation is not expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial position, although it is possible that the results of operations could be materially affected by an unfavorable outcome in any one annual period.

The Company has received inquiries from a number of state regulatory authorities regarding its use of the U.S. Social Security Administration's Death Master File ("Death Master File") and compliance with state claims practices regulation and unclaimed property and escheatment laws. To date, the Company has received inquiries from authorities in Maryland and Minnesota. Legislation requiring insurance companies to use the Death Master File to identify potential claims has recently been enacted in Maryland and other states. As a result of these legislative and regulatory developments, in May of 2012 the Company undertook an initiative to use the Death Master File and other publicly available databases to identify persons potentially entitled to benefits under life insurance policies, annuities, and retained asset accounts. In 2012 the Company incurred a one-time $11,000,000 pre-tax charge, net of reinsurance, to increase reserves to cover potential benefits payable resulting from this ongoing effort. Based on its analysis to date and management's estimate, the Company believes the remaining accrual will cover the reasonably estimated liability arising out of these developments. Additional costs that cannot be reasonably estimated as of the date of this filing are possible as a result of ongoing regulatory developments and other potential future requirements related to this matter. In addition, the company received audit and examination notices from several state agencies responsible for escheatment and unclaimed property regulation in those states. The Company has established a contingency of $2,000,000, the mid-point of an estimated range of $1,000,000 to $3,000,000, related to the external legal costs and administrative costs of said audits and examinations. Additional costs that cannot be reasonably estimated as of the date of this filing are possible as a result of ongoing regulatory developments and other future requirements related to this matter.

The Company has no assets, other than invested assets, that it considers to be impaired.

(4) All of the Company's significant over-the-counter financial derivative counterparty master agreements contain netting provisions allowing for the offset of contractual obligations due from (to) counterparties. To the extent that the net market value of aggregate contracts with individual counterparties exceeds established threshold amounts, collateral posting in favor of the exposed party is required. Collateral posted must be high quality, liquid securities or cash as dictated by the agreements.

20. Fair Value Measurements

A. The Company's measurement of fair value is based on assumptions used by market participants in pricing the asset or liability, which may include inherent risk, restrictions on the sale or use of an asset or non-performance risk. The Company's estimate of an exchange price is the price in an orderly transaction between market participants to sell the asset or transfer the liability ("exit price") in the principal market, or the most advantageous market in the absence of a principal market, for that asset or liability, as opposed to the price that would be paid to acquire the asset or receive a liability ("entry price").

(1) Fair Value Measurements at December 31, 2013:

(1) Description	(2) (Level 1)	(3) (Level 2)	(4) (Level 3)	(5) Total

(3) The Company's policy is to recognize transfers in and transfers out of the fair value hierarchy levels as of the beginning of the year of the event or change in circumstances that caused the transfer.

(4) Valuation techniques and inputs used in Fair Value Measurements for Level 2:

Bonds – The fair value of bonds is based upon valuations obtained from an independent pricing service. The primary inputs are observable and include benchmark yields, reported trades, broker/dealer quotes, issuer spread, two-sided markets, benchmark securities, bids, offers and reference data including market research publications. The independent pricing service also evaluates new issue data, monthly payment information and collateral performance. The independent pricing service uses spreads and other information solicited from Wall Street buy and sell side sources, including primary and secondary dealers, portfolio managers and research analysts. The primary inputs used by the independent pricing service are observable and, therefore, the investments are classified as Level 2.

Common Stock - Unaffiliated - The Company's investment in unaffiliated common stock that is reported at fair value and classified in Level 2 represents the Company's investment in Federal Home Loan Bank of Atlanta ("FHLB") common stock. Based upon the level of transactions with the FHLB, the Company is required to maintain FHLB stock. The fair value of this stock is set equal to its cost, which represents the price at which the FHLB will repurchase the stock.

Derivative Instruments - The fair value of derivative assets, excluding options that hedge FIA Products which are carried at amortized cost as described in Note 1A, is based upon valuation pricing models and represents what the Company would expect to receive or pay at the balance sheet date if the Company cancelled the options, entered into offsetting positions, or exercised the options. The fair value of futures contracts at the balance sheet date represents the cumulative unsettled variation margin. Fair values for these instruments are determined externally by an independent actuarial firm using market observable inputs, including interest rates, yield curve volatilities, etc. and therefore, the assets are classified as Level 2. Credit risk related to the counterparty is considered when estimating the fair values of these derivatives. However, the Company is largely protected by collateral arrangements with counterparties.

Valuation techniques and inputs used in Fair Value Measurements for Level 3:

In certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, an investment's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lower level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Company's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the investment.

When a determination is made to classify an asset or liability within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy, the determination is based upon the significance of the unobservable inputs to the overall fair value measurement. Because certain securities trade in less liquid or illiquid markets with limited or no pricing information, the determination of fair value for these securities is inherently more difficult. However, Level 3 fair value investments may include, in addition to the unobservable or Level 3 inputs, observable components, which are components that are actively quoted or can be validated to market-based sources.

Bonds and preferred stocks: Fair values for bonds and preferred stocks are based on valuations obtained from an independent pricing service or broker quotes. The independent pricing service's valuations are based on market data and utilize pricing models that vary by asset class and incorporate available trade, bid and other market information and, for structured securities, cash flow and loan performance data when available. The primary inputs are observable and include benchmark yields, reported trades, broker/dealer quotes, issuer spread, two-sided markets, benchmark securities, bids, offers and reference data including market research publications. The independent pricing service also evaluates new issue data, monthly payment information and collateral performance. The independent pricing service uses spreads and other information solicited from Wall Street buy and sell side sources, including primary and secondary dealers, portfolio managers and research analysts. The Company uses the valuations provided by the independent pricing service as the estimated fair value of the security when available. If the independent pricing service is not able to provide a valuation, the Company obtains a broker quote and uses the broker quote as an estimate of fair value.

Common stocks - unaffiliated: The Company's investment in unaffiliated common stocks is comprised of FHLB common stock and mutual funds. Based upon the level of transactions with the FHLB, the Company is required to maintain FHLB stock. The fair value of the FHLB common stock is set equal to its cost, which represents the price at which the FHLB will repurchase the stock. The mutual funds in which the Company invests are actively-traded institutional and retail mutual fund investments. The fair value for the mutual fund investments is based on the values provided by the respective mutual fund companies and represents the value the Company would have received if it withdrew its investment on the balance sheet date.

Mortgage loans and policy loans: Fair values for policy loans are estimated using discounted cash flow analysis, using interest rates currently being offered for loans with similar credit risk. Loans with similar characteristics are aggregated for purposes of the calculations. The carrying value for mortgage loans approximates the fair value.

Derivative instruments: The fair value of equity options (derivative instruments) is based upon valuation pricing models and represents what the Company would expect to receive or pay at the balance sheet date if the Company cancelled the options, entered into offsetting positions, or exercised the options. The fair value of futures contracts at the balance sheet date represents the cumulative unsettled variation margin (open trade equity net of cash settlements). Fair values for these instruments are determined externally by an independent actuarial firm using market observable inputs, including interest rates, yield curve volatilities and other factors.

Surplus debentures: The fair values of surplus debentures are based on valuations obtained from independent pricing services or broker quotes.

Separate account invested assets: FHLB separate account invested assets are comprised of bonds and short-term investments. The fair value of the bonds held in the FHLB separate account are based on valuations obtained from an independent pricing service or broker quotes using the same methods and inputs described above for "bonds and preferred stocks".

Other assets and other liabilities: Other assets and liabilities considered financial instruments are generally of a short-term nature, and it is assumed the carrying value approximates fair value.

Deposit-type contracts: Fair values for the Company's liabilities under deposit-type contracts are estimated using discounted cash flow calculations based on interest rates currently being offered for like contracts with similar maturities.

21. Other Items

The Company elected to round to the nearest dollar in reporting amounts in this statement. Certain amounts reported in the prior year have been reclassified to conform to the current year presentation.

A. Extraordinary Items

There were no extraordinary items to disclose in 2013.

B. Troubled Debt Restructuring

There were no troubled debt restructurings in 2013.

C. Reinsurance transactions

The Company has a significant concentration of reinsurance with Wilton Re that could have a material impact on the Company's financial position. At December 31, 2013 and December 31, 2012, the reserves ceded to Wilton Re totaled $1,776,340,867 and $1,761,012,673, respectively. The Company monitors both the financial condition of individual reinsurers and risk concentration arising from similar geographic regions, activities and economic characteristics of reinsurers to reduce the risk of default by such reinsurers.

Effective July 1, 2012, the Company recaptured from Raven Re, the December 31, 2011 reinsurance agreement of the liabilities under the return of premium benefit riders. No gain or loss was recognized on the recapture transaction as the statutory reserves re-established of $30,130,807 were offset by the release to the Company of an equal amount of assets from the funds withheld account. The remaining assets in the funds withheld account of $325,844 were transferred to Raven Re.

The Company had a yearly renewable term, quota share, reinsurance agreement with OM Re whereby OM Re assumed a portion of the risk that policyholders exercise the "waiver of surrender charge" features on certain deferred annuity policies. The statutory reserves ceded under this agreement were secured by a $255,000,000 letter of credit sponsored by Old Mutual plc of London, England ("OM"), the Company's former ultimate parent. This treaty was recaptured with an effective date of October 1, 2012. In connection with the recapture transaction, the Company paid $1,116,152 to OM Re for the outstanding quarterly settlement under the reinsurance agreement. The Company did not transfer to or receive any other assets from OM Re.

The Company simultaneously entered into a reinsurance agreement with Raven Re, to re-cede a similar quota share of the "waiver of surrender charge" risk to Raven Re effective October 1, 2012. The Company did not transfer to or receive any assets from Raven Re in connection with the cession of this business. Raven Re financed the statutory reserves for this business with a letter of credit facility in the amount of $295,000,000 provided by Nomura Bank International plc ("Nomura"), an unaffiliated financial institution. The Company paid Nomura an upfront structuring fee of $2,800,000 to establish the letter of credit facility which was recognized as an expense in the Company's Summary of Operations at December 31, 2012. The statutory reserves ceded to Raven Re as of December 31, 2013 and 2012 were $184,317,995 and $257,800,485, respectively. In connection with this reinsurance agreement, the Company incurred risk charges of $5,587,500 and $1,475,000 in 2013 and 2012, respectively, which were reported in the Statement of Operations.

The Company realized a loss on the recapture of this business from OM Re equal to the statutory reserves re-established upon recapture of $281,975,363. The Company realized a gain equal to the reserve credit of $281,975,363 established upon the re-cession of this business to Raven Re. This gain was offset against the loss recognized on the recapture of the business from OM Re since the re-cession of the business to Raven Re occurred contemporaneously with the recapture of the business from OM Re.

On December 31, 2012 the Company entered into a coinsurance agreement with FSR, an affiliate of HGI, under which the Company ceded a 10% quota share of certain in-force annuity business statutory reserves to FSR (the "FSR Coinsurance Agreement"). The statutory reserves ceded to FSR as of December 31, 2013 and 2012 were $1,242,800,618 and $1,332,245,828, respectively. The annuity business ceded to FSR includes all single premium immediate annuities ("SPIA", including supplementary contracts), deferred annuities ("DA") and fixed indexed annuities issued June 30, 2012 and prior, excluding funding agreements issue to the FHLB and annuity liabilities assumed by the Company from Ohio National Life Insurance Company. The annuity liabilities ceded to FSR are net of any reinsurance ceded to other reinsurers, including the cession of waiver of surrender charge benefits to Raven Re under the waiver of surrender charge treaty entered into in October 2012. No new business is ceded to FSR under the FSR Coinsurance Agreement. FSR receives its quota share of any additional premiums received on the reinsured business. FSR also participates in any supplementary contracts issued upon annuitization of any reinsured policies at its quota share.

FSR paid the Company an initial ceding commission of $15,000,000 on December 31, 2012. This $15,000,000 pretax gain from the transaction was credited directly to the Company's December 31, 2012 surplus and is being amortized into income as earnings emerge from the business. The December 31, 2012 statement of admitted assets, liabilities, and capital and surplus includes balances payable to FSR for the initial interest maintenance reserve liability ("IMR") associated with the reinsured business of $18,097,820 (calculated as of June 30, 2012) which was paid to FSR in February 2013.

FSR is an unauthorized reinsurer in Iowa and, therefore, the FSR Coinsurance Agreement is on a funds withheld basis and the statutory reserves are fully collateralized by a funds withheld account. Upon execution of the reinsurance agreement, the Company placed bonds and other fixed income securities with a statement value of $1,214,358,467 in a separate custodial account over which the Company retains control and has title to all assets held in this account. As of December 31, 2013, cash and invested assets held in the funds withheld account had a statutory statement value of $1,260,588,884.

The initial transfer of $1,214,358,467 of assets to the funds withheld account represents partial payment by the Company to FSR of the initial premium due to FSR under the FSR Coinsurance Agreement. The total initial premium due to FSR is equal to the statutory reserves ceded to FSR on December 31, 2012 of $1,254,606,195 plus the deposit-type contract reserves of $77,639,633 and the IMR liability ceded to FSR of $18,097,820 (calculated as of June 30, 2012). The assets initially transferred into the funds withheld account also included accrued interest on the bonds and other fixed income securities of $11,768,371 and a net hedge settlement amount of $17,035,367. As of December 31, 2012, the Company was required to transfer cash of $89,083,623 to the funds withheld account to satisfy the remainder of the initial premium due to FSR (excluding the portion of the initial premium represented by the IMR liability ceded to FSR) which was subsequently transferred to the funds withheld account on January 31, 2013.

The reinsurance agreement was approved by the MIA on December 13, 2012. MIA also reviewed and approved the investment management agreement between the Company, FSR and HGI Asset Management, LLC (the "Investment Manager") under which the assets held in the funds withheld account are managed.

Under the terms of the FSR Reinsurance Agreement, reserves are calculated in accordance with statutory accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the MIA and with sound reserving and actuarial principles. The Iowa Insurance Division grandfathered the FSR Reinsurance Agreement upon re-domestication to Iowa. Therefore, the Company will continue to record the ceded reserve credit under the FSR Reinsurance Agreement in accordance with MIA accounting practices and continue to record the net hedge settlement at fair value, rather than amortized cost.

There were no other significant transactions during 2013 outside of the normal course of business.

E. State Transferable Tax Credits. - None.

F. Subprime Mortgage Related Risk Exposure

1. Exposure to subprime mortgage risk is defined using market accepted guidelines on FICO scores, original loan to value ratios and documentation. Additionally, the evaluation of securities includes reviewing the quality of the servicer, pool specific statistics, the position of the security within the capital structure of the trust holding the mortgages and the credit enhancement available to protect the principal value of the security being evaluated. Accepted guidelines on FICO scores and documentation include the following characteristics:

   - Original loan to values ratios on these loans tend to be higher in 2006 and 2007 (80% to 100% when accounting for subsequent second liens). In 2004 and earlier subprime origination, loan to value ratios were lower at origination (65% to 80%).
   - FICO scores are in the lower range (FICO scores range from 300 to 800, 620 and below is typically considered subprime).
   - No documentation or low documentation
   - The borrower's rate at the time of origination is much higher than the conforming rate at the time which is referred to as the spread at the time of origination
   - Debt to income ratios on these borrowers may be higher.
   - In the past there were some issuers whose sole origination was subprime loans
   - Since poorer quality loans typically have higher losses, the amount of subordination on a package of subprime loans is much higher than that of prime collateral.

   Risk exposure associated with subprime market fluctuation and cash flow deterioration is managed by actively monitoring and trading securities in the asset-backed securities ("ABS") sector and through issue selection with bias towards more seasoned collateral. The decision to sell the security and realize the loss or hold the security and recognize the unrealized loss is dependent upon the active monitoring of the portfolio. This coupled with subprime being limited to ABS which securitizes subprime mortgages with credit enhancement features mitigates potential exposure.

2. Direct exposure to subprime mortgages through investments. – None.

3. The Company has direct exposure through other investments.

G. Retained Assets

(1) Retained Asset Accounts represent the settlement of life insurance and annuity proceeds that are retained by the Company for the benefit of the beneficiaries. The beneficiary has complete control of and immediate access to the funds in this account. Interest rates paid to the Retained Asset account holders during 2013 were 1.0% from January 1, 2013 through December 31, 2013. The Company does not charge fees related to the Retained Asset Accounts.

The balances in the tables below include the accounts of the Company's subsidiary, FGLICNY, as their accounts are held and administered by the Company. FGLICNY transferred cash equal to the life insurance or annuity proceeds to the Company when the beneficiary elected the Retained Asset Account settlement option, therefore, the Company reports the liability for FGLICNY's Retained Asset Accounts on its Balance Sheet. In November 2009, FGLICNY discontinued offering the Retained Asset Account as a settlement option.

30. Premium Deficiency Reserves – Not applicable

31. Reserves for Life Contracts and Annuity Contracts

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. The Company waives deduction of deferred fractional premiums upon death of the insured and returns any portion of the final premium beyond the date of death. Surrender values are not promised in excess of the legally computed reserves.

2. The extra reserve for table rated extra premiums on permanent insurance is based on the extra premium and the year of issue of the contract. Factors varying from 0.20 for the first policy year to 6.64 for the twentieth policy year are applied to the premiums. The extra reserves secured in this manner are approximately equivalent to the additional reserves needed for substandard mortality and are assumed to represent the increased mortality of these substandard risks.

   The extra reserve liability for table rated extra premiums on term insurance and for flat extra premiums on all insurance is taken as one-half of the extra annual premium for the insurance in force with these extra premiums. This is done on the assumption that the risks covered by the extra premium will have extra mortality that remains constant or decreases with increase in attained age.

   Mean reserves on our currently sold term insurance are based on appropriate multiples of standard rates of mortality.

3. At December 31, 2013, the Company had $7,720,434,524 of insurance in force for which the gross premiums are less than the net premiums according to the standard of valuation set by the State of Iowa. The FHLB Separate Account was established pursuant to Sections 16-113 and 5-512(d), (g), (h), (i), (j) and (k) of the Insurance Article of the Annotated Code of Maryland and maintained pursuant to sections 508A.1, 508.31A and 508.32 of the Iowa Code. The MIA also approved the form of the funding agreements to be issued to the FHLB. The funding agreements (i.e., immediate annuity contracts without life contingencies) provide a guaranteed stream of payments. Reserves are based on the present value of the income payments and are calculated in accordance with Actuarial Guideline IX. The valuation interest rate, in accordance with the Standard Valuation law, is derived from the issue year method and a guaranteed duration equal to the number of years from issue to the date the first payment begins. In accordance with the FHLB Separate Account Plan of Operation, the assets supporting the funding agreement liabilities are held in the FHLB Separate Account at amortized cost. All of the FHLB Separate Account assets are pledged as collateral to secure the FHLB funding agreement liabilities.
