The Iowa Insurance Division recognizes only statutory accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the State of Iowa for determining and reporting the financial condition and results of operations of an insurance company and for determining its solvency under Iowa Insurance Law. The National Association of Insurance Commissioners' ("NAIC") Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual ("NAIC SAP") has been adopted as a component of prescribed or permitted practices by the State of Iowa.

In connection with the Company's re-domestication to Iowa and pursuant to SSAP No. 72, "Surplus and Quasi-reorganizations", the Iowa Insurance Division granted the Company a permitted statutory accounting practice to reclassify its negative unassigned surplus balance of $805,816,723 to additional paid in capital as of April 6, 2011, the date of acquisition of the Company by Harbinger Group Inc. ("HGI"), which had the effect of setting the Company's statutory unassigned surplus to zero as of this date. The Iowa Insurance Division waived the six-month timeframe contained in SSAP No. 72 in connection with a change in control.

Upon re-domestication to Iowa, the Company elected to use the alternative accounting practices prescribed by 191 IAC 97 for indexed annuity products ("FIA Products"). Under these alternative accounting practices prescribed by 191 IAC 97 "Accounting for Certain Derivative Instruments Used to Hedge the Growth in Interest Credited for Indexed Insurance Products and Accounting for the Indexed Insurance Products Reserve", the call option derivative instruments that hedge the growth in interest credited on index products are accounted for at amortized cost with the corresponding amortization recorded as a decrease to net investment income and indexed annuity reserves are calculated based on Standard Valuation Law and Actuarial Guideline XXXV assuming the market value of the call options associated with the current index term is zero regardless of the observable market value for such options. The Company's FIA Products constitute "indexed annuity products" and the derivatives hedging the Company's FIA Products constitute "eligible derivative assets" as defined in 191 IAC 97.3. As such, the Company elected to account for such eligible derivative assets at amortized cost pursuant to 191 IAC 97.4 and to determine indexed annuity product reserve calculations based on Actuarial Guideline XXXV, assuming the market value of the eligible derivative assets associated with the current interest crediting period is zero, and reflect the interest credit in the reserve when realized based on the actual performance of the relevant external index or indices pursuant of 191 IAC 97.5. This change in accounting practice was effective retroactively to January 1, 2013. The effect of this election at January 1, 2013 was an increase in surplus of $13,557,555 and is reflected in the Statement of Capital and Surplus as a cumulative effect of changes in accounting principles. The cumulative effect adjustment is comprised of a decrease in reserves of $58,605,860, an increase in net deferred tax assets of $24,742,376, and an increase in the Company's investment in affiliated common stock of $18,745,968, partially offset by a decrease in the equity option assets of $70,692,501 and an increase in the current tax liability of $17,844,148.

The increase in the Company's investment in affiliated common stock represents an increase in the statutory surplus of its subsidiary, Raven Reinsurance Company ("Raven Re") due to a decrease in the FIA reserve liability ceded to Raven Re under the waiver of surrender charge ("WSC") reinsurance treaty. In accordance with the WSC treaty, the Company will determine the reserve credit for the waiver of surrender charge risk ceded to the Raven Re, and Raven Re will determine its assumed reserves, under statutory accounting principles for the state of domicile of the Company which includes the election by the Company to follow the alternative accounting practices prescribed by 191 IAC 97. The Commissioner of the Vermont Department of Financial Regulation (the "Vermont Department") approved and permitted Raven Re to also follow the alternative accounting practices prescribed by 191 IAC. Raven Re's surplus increased $18,745,968 at January 1, 2013 as a result of adopting 191 IAC 97 which is comprised of a decrease in its reserve liability of $28,839,916 and an increase in its current tax liability of $10,093,948.

If the Company had not elected the adoption of the alternative prescribed accounting practice, statutory surplus would be increased by $4,954,484 at December 31, 2014 and decreased by $11,516,823 at December 31, 2013. Additionally, net income would be increased by $49,103,340 at December 31, 2014 and decreased by $118,989,225 at December 31, 2013. The Company's risk-based capital ("RBC") would not have triggered a regulatory event had it not adopted the alternative prescribed accounting practice described above.

The Company has no other statutory accounting practices that differ from those of NAIC SAP other than 191 IAC 97 and the application of SSAP 72 after the expiration of the six-month timeframe prescribed in SSAP 72.

At December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, the Company's investment in affiliated common stock for Raven Re reflects the subsidiary's effect of the Vermont Department permitted accounting practice for Raven Re's letter of credit ("LOC") as an admitted asset for $245,000,000 and $270,000,000, respectively. The LOC was secured by Raven Re to finance the statutory reserves resulting from the Raven Re WSC reinsurance treaty, effective October 2012 entered into with the Company. In accordance with the LOC agreement, the letter of credit decreases $6,250,000 on the first day of each quarter.

B. Use of Estimates in the Preparation of the Financial Statements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Statutory Accounting Principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities. It also requires disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

C. Accounting Policy

Life premiums are recognized as income over the premium paying period of the related policies. Annuity considerations are recognized as revenue when received. Expenses incurred in connection with acquiring new insurance business, including acquisition costs such as sales commissions, are charged to operations as incurred.

The amount of dividends to be paid to policyholders is determined annually by the Company's Board of Directors. The aggregate amount of policyholders' dividends is related to actual interest, mortality, morbidity, and expense experience for the year and judgment as to the appropriate level of statutory surplus to be retained by the Company.

In addition, the Company uses the following accounting policies:

(1) Short-term investments are stated at amortized cost.
(2) Bonds not backed by other loans are stated primarily at amortized cost using the interest method, except for those bonds deemed to be other-than-temporarily impaired that are written down to estimated fair value and those bonds rated NAIC 6 which are carried at the lower of amortized cost or fair value.
(3) Common stocks are stated at fair value except that investments in stocks of uncombined subsidiaries and affiliates in which the Company has an interest of 10% or more are carried on the equity basis. (See (6) below)
(4) Preferred stocks are stated at amortized cost, except those preferred stocks rated NAIC 4 or lower, which are carried at the lower of amortized cost or fair value, or those preferred stocks deemed to be other-than-temporarily impaired which are written down to estimated fair value.
(5) Mortgage loans on real estate are stated at the unpaid principal balance.
(6) Loan-backed and structured securities are stated at either amortized cost or, for those securities rated NAIC 6, the lower of amortized cost or fair value. Loan-backed and structured securities that are deemed to be other-than-temporarily impaired are written down through the statement of operations to fair value or to the amount of the discounted estimated future cash flows. See Note 5D (5) for the circumstances that result in the recognition of an other-than-temporary impairment loss. The retrospective adjustment method was used to value all securities except for interest only securities or securities where the yield had become negative. These securities were valued using the prospective method.

(7) The Company's insurance subsidiaries are reported based upon the equity in the underlying audited statutory net assets, and the Company's non-insurance subsidiaries are reported based upon the equity in the audited GAAP net assets adjusted to a statutory basis. The Company's investments in non-insurance subsidiaries for which audited GAAP financial statements are not available are non-admitted.

(8) The Company has ownership interests in limited partnerships and limited liability companies, including federal and state sponsored Low Income Housing Tax Credit ("LIHTC") properties. The Company carries its LIHTC investments at amortized cost in accordance with SSAP No. 93, "Accounting for Low Income Housing Tax Credit Property Investments." State sponsored LIHTC investments that are not in compliance with SSAP No. 93 and other investments in limited partnerships and limited liability companies are based on the underlying GAAP equity of the investee in accordance with SSAP No. 48, "Joint Ventures, Partnerships and Limited Liability Companies".

(9) Equity call options which economically hedge the equity linked liability underlying its equity indexed universal life insurance ("EIUL") products and all futures contracts are stated at fair value. Effective January 1, 2013, the Company elected to use the alternative accounting practices prescribed by 191 IAC 97 for the equity call options which economically hedge the Company's FIA Products. Under the alternative accounting practices prescribed by 191 IAC 97, the equity call options are accounted for at amortized cost with the corresponding amortization recorded as a decrease to net investment income. See Note 1A.

(10) The Company anticipates investment income as a factor in the premium deficiency calculation, in accordance with SSAP No. 54, "Individual and Group Accident and Health Contracts".

(11) Management uses conservative methods based on prior experience to estimate the liabilities for losses and loss/claim adjustment expenses for accident and health contracts.

(12) Effective January 1, 2014, the Company changed its accounting policy related to the capitalization of fixed assets to (1) include internal development costs and (2) refine the estimated useful life periods for each fixed asset category. The effects of these changes were immaterial to the current and prior year fixed assets and depreciation expense.

(3) During the year ended December 31, 2014, the Company did not recognize other-than-temporary impairments where the present value of cash flows expected to be collected is less than the amortized cost basis of the securities.

(4) The following table presents the unrealized loss aging for the Company's investments in loan-backed and structured securities at December 31, 2014 by length of time the security was in a continuous unrealized loss position.

2. 12 Months or Longer $ 23,777,474

1. Less than 12 Months $ 1,172,845,217
2. 12 Months or Longer $ 662,859,561

(5) If the fair value of a loan-backed or structured security is less than its amortized cost basis at the balance sheet date, the Company determines whether the following circumstances exist and, if so, recognizes an- other-than-temporary impairment loss:

- If the Company intends to sell the security or does not have the intent and ability to retain the security until its amortized cost is recovered, the security is other-than-temporarily impaired. A realized loss is recognized for the entire difference between the security's amortized cost and its fair value at the balance-sheet date.

- If the Company does not expect to recover the entire amortized cost from the present value of the security's future cash flows, it cannot assert it has the ability to recover the security's amortized cost even though it has no intent to sell and has the intent and ability to retain. The security is therefore other-than-temporarily impaired. A realized loss is recognized for the non-interest-related decline, which is the difference between the security's amortized cost and the present value of cash flows expected to be collected.

E. Repurchase Agreements and Securities Lending Transactions – None.

   B. The Company did not recognize any impairments on joint ventures, partnerships or limited liability companies in 2014.

      All investment income due and accrued with amounts that are over 90 days past due with the exception of mortgage loans in default.

   B. The total amount excluded was $872,224.

8. Derivative Instruments

   A. The derivative instruments used by the Company expose the Company to potential credit loss in the event of nonperformance by counterparties. The amount of exposure is the fair value for such agreement with each counterparty if the fair value is in the Company's favor. The credit risk associated with these agreements is minimized by purchasing agreements from counterparties with NAIC designations of "1." Additionally, the Company maintains a policy requiring all derivative contracts to be governed by International Swaps and Derivatives Association ("ISDA") Master Agreements. The Company is required to maintain minimum ratings as a matter of routine practice in negotiating ISDA agreements. Under some ISDA agreements, the Company has agreed to maintain certain financial strength ratings. A downgrade below these levels could result in termination of the open derivative contracts between the parties, at which time any amounts payable by the Company or the counterparty would be dependent on the market value of the underlying derivative contracts. In certain transactions, the Company and the counterparty have entered into a collateral support agreement requiring either party to post collateral when the net exposures exceed pre-determined thresholds. These thresholds vary by counterparty and credit rating. Downgrades of the Company have given multiple counterparties the right to terminate ISDA agreements. The agreements have not been terminated, although the counterparties have reserved the right to terminate the agreements at any time.

      At December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, the total exposure for options owned was $303,869,261 and $290,288,647 and the maximum exposure with any individual counterparty was $122,989,934 and $103,086,236, respectively. The total notional amount of the options held at December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013 was $8,042,629,101 and $6,499,070,021. At December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, counterparties posted $213,145,082 and $119,833,554 of collateral of which $174,718,512 and $74,731,044 is included in page 2, line 5 "Cash" with an associated payable for this collateral included in page 3, line 25 "Aggregate write-ins for liabilities". The remaining $38,426,569 and $45,102,510 of non-cash collateral was held by a third-party custodian at December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, respectively. The Company also had 1,627 and 1,190 open futures contracts with a potential exposure of $8,174,320 and $5,318,060 at December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, respectively.

      The derivatives used by the Company expose the Company to market risk (market movements). The Company expects that movements in the fair value of that portion of the derivative portfolio constituting economic hedges would be offset by changes in the fair value of the hedged items.

      Cash requirements for futures contracts include the initial and variation margin requirements on open futures contracts.

   B. The Company uses static and dynamic hedging strategies to hedge the equity linked liability underlying its FIA products and its EIUL products. Exchange traded equity indexed and volatility linked futures and options and over the counter options are used to hedge market exposures of the liabilities with the objective of offsetting fair value changes and to manage the effect of policyholder behavior such as the option to switch after annual renewals. The indices underlying the futures and options are the same indices referenced by the FIAs and EIULs. The futures and options are matched to the liabilities with respect to equity index movements frequently. Other market exposures are hedged periodically depending on market conditions and the Company's risk tolerance. Static and dynamic hedging exposes the Company to the risk that un-hedged market exposures result in divergence between changes in the fair value of the liabilities and the hedging assets. The Company uses a variety of techniques including direct estimation of market sensitivities and value-at-risk to monitor this risk daily. The Company intends to continue to adjust the strategy as product design evolves, and as market conditions and the Company's risk tolerance change.

C. Call options hedging FIA Products are recorded at amortized cost, effective January 1, 2013, as described in Note 1A above, with amortization recognized as a reduction in net investment income on a straight line basis over the term of the call options. Realized gains and losses on the call options hedging the FIA products are also recognized in net investment income.

Call options hedging EIUL products are recorded at fair value. The fair value of options that hedge EIUL products are based upon quoted market prices and valuation pricing models and represent what the Company would expect to receive or pay at the balance sheet date if the Company cancelled the options, entered into offsetting option positions, or exercised the options.

Futures contracts are valued at fair value each reporting period with changes in fair value recorded as unrealized gains or losses and included in surplus in accordance with SSAP 86, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging, Income Generation, and Replication (Synthetic Asset) Transactions". The fair value of futures contracts at the balance sheet date represents the cumulative unsettled variation margin. Call options hedging the EIUL products are marked to market through surplus (fair value accounting). Realized gains (losses) on the call options hedging the EIUL products are included in the Interest Maintenance Reserve and amortized into income over the remaining duration of the derivative contract. Long option positions are included in invested assets. Initial and variation margins on futures contracts are included in cash.

The Company does not have reportable information for items D through F.

The 2009 Surplus Note may be prepaid in whole or in part at any time, plus accrued interest to the date of prepayment, without premium or penalty subject to the Company having sufficient surplus and obtaining the approval of the Iowa Insurance Division. The unpaid principal balance matures on December 31, 2019. The 2009 Surplus Note will be automatically extended from year to year if the Company has insufficient surplus or does not obtain the approval of the Iowa Insurance Division to effect the repayment. In 2014, interest paid on the 2009 Surplus Note by the Company totaled $1,800,000.

2. On March 31, 2013, the Company issued an additional surplus note to its parent, FGLH, in the principal amount of $195,000,000 (the "2013 Surplus Note"). On May 8, 2013, the MIA granted the Company approval to execute the 2013 Surplus Note. FGLH funded the 2013 Surplus Note using a portion of the proceeds received from approximately $300,000,000 of Senior Notes due in 2021, which FGLH issued on March 27, 2013. The Company received $195,000,000 in cash from FGLH on May 10, 2013. 13) Quasi-reorganization

In connection with its re-domestication to Iowa and pursuant to SSAP No. 72 quasi-reorganization, the Iowa Insurance Division granted the Company a permitted statutory accounting practice to reclassify its negative unassigned surplus balance of $805,816,723 to additional paid in capital as of April 6, 2011, the date of acquisition of the Company by HGI, which had the effect of setting the Company's statutory unassigned surplus to zero as of this date. The Iowa Insurance Division waived the six-month timeframe contained in SSAP No. 72 in connection with this change in control.

14. Liabilities, Contingencies and Assessments

A. The Company has a contingent commitment related to LIHTC properties investments related to an additional investment in R4 Housing Partners VI, LP of $17,746,408 to be funded over the years 2015 through 2020. See note 5G above.

B. (1) The Company is assessed amounts by the state guaranty funds to cover losses to policyholders of insolvent insurance companies. Those mandatory assessments may be partially recovered through a reduction in future premium tax credits in certain states.

The Company received updated information in 2014 of potential assessments from the National Organization of Life & Health Insurance Guaranty Associations ("NOLHGA"). The Company has recorded a potential liability related to its share of the estimated guaranty fund assessments as provided by NOLHGA in the amount of $3.8 million. The data provided by NOLHGA utilizes estimates and does not reflect the actual timing of future assessments.

This liability could change should any new insolvencies arise. Management reviews open insolvencies annually to determine if the guaranty fund accrual is sufficient.

The Company has established a guaranty fund asset of $4.0 million which consists of future premium tax deductions related to the NOLHGA liability in the amount of $1.8 million and net assets paid in the amount of $2.2 million.

F. The Company is involved in various pending or threatened legal proceedings, including purported class actions, arising in the ordinary course of business. In some instances, these proceedings include claims for unspecified or substantial punitive damages and similar types of relief in addition to amounts for alleged contractual liability or requests for equitable relief. In the opinion of management and in light of existing insurance and other potential indemnification, reinsurance and established reserves, such litigation is not expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial position, although it is possible that the results of operations and cash flows could be materially affected by an unfavorable outcome in any one period.

On July 18, 2011, a putative class action Complaint was filed in the United States District Court for the Central District of California, captioned Eddie L. Cressy v. OM Financial Life Insurance Company, et. al., Case No. 2:2011-cv-05871. The Plaintiff asked the Court to certify the action as a class action on behalf of both a nationwide and a California class defined as certain persons who were sold OM Financial Life Insurance equity-indexed universal life insurance policies.

The Plaintiff alleged, inter alia, that the Plaintiff and members of the putative class relied on defendants' advice to purchase unsuitable insurance policies. After extensive motion practice, the federal court dismissed the federal causes of action, with prejudice, and, on May 9, 2013, declined to exercise supplemental jurisdiction over the state law claims, dismissed the state law claims, without prejudice, and granted the Plaintiff leave to re-file the state law claims in California state court.

On July 5, 2013, the Plaintiff filed a putative class action captioned Eddie L. Cressy v. Fidelity & Guaranty [sic] Life Insurance Company, et. al. in the Superior Court of California, County of Los Angeles (the "Court"), at No. BC-514340. The state court Complaint asserts, inter alia, that the Plaintiff and members of the putative class relied on Defendants' advice in purchasing unsuitable equity-indexed insurance policies. The Plaintiff seeks to certify a class defined as "all persons who reside or are located in the state of California who were sold OM Financial/Fidelity & Guaranty Life equity-indexed universal life insurance policies as an investment."

On April 4, 2014, the Plaintiff, the Company and the other two defendants signed a Settlement Agreement, pursuant to which the Company agreed to pay a total of $5,250,000 to settle the claims of a nationwide class consisting, with certain exclusions, of all persons who own or owned an OM Financial/Fidelity & Guaranty Life indexed universal life insurance policy issued from January 1, 2007 through March 31, 2014, inclusive. As part of the settlement, the Company agreed to certification of the nationwide class for settlement purposes only. An amended Settlement Agreement was filed with the Court on June 5, 2014 as part of the Plaintiff's Unopposed Motion for Preliminary Approval of Settlement and Conditional Class Certification. On June 19, 2014, the Court held a hearing on Plaintiff's Unopposed Motion for Preliminary Approval of Settlement and Conditional Class Certification and entered its Order Granting Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement (the "Order"). Pursuant to the terms of the Settlement Agreement and the Court's Order, the Company has the right to unilaterally terminate the settlement if either: (i) 100 policyholders or (ii) policyholders representing more than one percent (1%) of the total premiums paid opt out of or object to the settlement. Final settlement is also subject to other conditions and the entry of a final order that can no longer be appealed. On November 18, 2014, the Court granted final approval of the class settlement, subject to entry of a Final Order and Judgment.

At December 31, 2014, the Company estimated the total cost for the settlement, legal fees and other costs related to this class action would be $9,022,625 and has established a liability for the unpaid portion of the estimate of $3,443,582. Based on the information currently available the Company does not expect the actual cost for settlement, legal fees and other related cost to differ materially from the amount accrued. The Company is seeking indemnification from OM Group (UK) Limited ("OMGUK") under the First Amended and Restated Stock Purchase Agreement, dated February 17, 2011 (the "F&G Stock Purchase Agreement") between Fidelity & Guaranty Life (formerly, Harbinger F&G, LLC) and OMGUK related to the settlement and the costs and fees in defending the Cressy litigation in both the federal and state courts. The Company has established an amount recoverable from OMGUK for the amount of $4,421,086, the collection of which the Company believes is probable. The actual amount recovered from OMGUK could be greater or less than the Company's estimate, but the Company anticipates that the amount recovered will not be materially different than its current estimate.

On, January 2, 2015 the Court entered the Final Order and Judgment, finally certifying the class for settlement purposes, and finally approving the class settlement. According to the class settlement, the final settlement date means the date on which the Final Order and Judgment becomes final for all purposes, including appeal.

In light of the inherent uncertainties involved in the matter described above and uncertainties in litigation generally, there can be no assurance that this litigation, or any other pending or future litigation, will not have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, or results of operations.

To the extent that the net market value of aggregate contracts with individual counterparties exceeds established threshold amounts, collateral posting in favor of the exposed party is required. Collateral posted must be high quality, liquid securities or cash as dictated by the agreements.

20. Fair Value Measurements

A. The Company's measurement of fair value is based on assumptions used by market participants in pricing the asset or liability, which may include inherent risk, restrictions on the sale or use of an asset or non-performance risk. The Company's estimate of an exchange price is the price in an orderly transaction between market participants to sell the asset or transfer the liability ("exit price") in the principal market, or the most advantageous market in the absence of a principal market, for that asset or liability, as opposed to the price that would be paid to acquire the asset or receive a liability ("entry price").

(2) Fair Value Measurements in Level 3 of the Fair Value Hierarchy

No fair value measurements were determined using significant unobservable inputs (Level 3). Level 3 securities trade in less liquid or illiquid markets with limited or no pricing information. The valuation relies on management's judgment concerning the discount rate used in calculating expected cash flows, credit quality, industry sector performance and expected maturity.

(3) The Company's policy is to recognize transfers in and transfers out of the fair value hierarchy levels as of the beginning of the year of the event or change in circumstances that caused the transfer.

(4) Valuation techniques and inputs used in Fair Value Measurements for Level 2:

Common Stock - Unaffiliated - The Company's investment in unaffiliated common stock that is reported at fair value and classified in Level 2 represents the Company's investment in Federal Home Loan Bank of Atlanta ("FHLB") common stock. Based upon the level of transactions with the FHLB, the Company is required to maintain FHLB stock. The fair value of this stock is set equal to its cost, which represents the price at which the FHLB will repurchase the stock.

Derivative Instruments - The fair value of derivative assets, excluding options that hedge FIA Products which are carried at amortized cost as described in Note 1A, is based upon valuation pricing models and represents what the Company would expect to receive or pay at the balance sheet date if the Company cancelled the options, entered into offsetting positions, or exercised the options. The fair value of futures contracts at the balance sheet date represents the cumulative unsettled variation margin. Fair values for these instruments are determined externally by an independent actuarial firm using market observable inputs, including interest rates, yield curve volatilities, etc. and therefore, the assets are classified as Level 2. Credit risk related to the counterparty is considered when estimating the fair values of these derivatives. However, the Company is largely protected by collateral arrangements with counterparties.

Valuation techniques and inputs used in Fair Value Measurements for Level 3:

In certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, an investment's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lower level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Company's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the investment.

When a determination is made to classify an asset or liability within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy, the determination is based upon the significance of the unobservable inputs to the overall fair value measurement. Because certain securities trade in less liquid or illiquid markets with limited or no pricing information, the determination of fair value for these securities is inherently more difficult. However, Level 3 fair value investments may include, in addition to the unobservable or Level 3 inputs, observable components, which are components that are actively quoted or can be validated to market-based sources.

Bonds and preferred stocks: Fair values for bonds and preferred stocks are based on valuations obtained from an independent pricing service or broker quotes. The independent pricing service's valuations are based on market data and utilize pricing models that vary by asset class and incorporate available trade, bid and other market information and, for structured securities, cash flow and loan performance data when available. The primary inputs are observable and include benchmark yields, reported trades, broker/dealer quotes, issuer spread, two-sided markets, benchmark securities, bids, offers and reference data including market research publications. The independent pricing service also evaluates new issue data, monthly payment information and collateral performance. The independent pricing service uses spreads and other information solicited from Wall Street buy and sell side sources, including primary and secondary dealers, portfolio managers and research analysts. The Company uses the valuations provided by the independent pricing service as the estimated fair value of the security when available. If the independent pricing service is not able to provide a valuation, the Company obtains a broker quote and uses the broker quote as an estimate of fair value.

Common stocks - unaffiliated: The Company's investment in unaffiliated common stocks is comprised of FHLB common stock and mutual funds. Based upon the level of transactions with the FHLB, the Company is required to maintain FHLB stock. The fair value of the FHLB common stock is set equal to its cost, which represents the price at which the FHLB will repurchase the stock. The mutual funds in which the Company invests are actively-traded institutional and retail mutual fund investments. The fair value for the mutual fund investments is based on the values provided by the respective mutual fund companies and represents the value the Company would have received if it withdrew its investment on the balance sheet date.

Mortgage loans and policy loans: Fair values for policy loans are estimated using discounted cash flow analysis, using interest rates currently being offered for loans with similar credit risk. Loans with similar characteristics are aggregated for purposes of the calculations. The carrying value for mortgage loans approximates the fair value.

Derivative instruments: The fair value of equity options (derivative instruments) is based upon valuation pricing models and represents what the Company would expect to receive or pay at the balance sheet date if the Company cancelled the options, entered into offsetting positions, or exercised the options. The fair value of futures contracts at the balance sheet date represents the cumulative unsettled variation margin (open trade equity net of cash settlements). Fair values for these instruments are determined externally by an independent actuarial firm using market observable inputs, including interest rates, yield curve volatilities and other factors.

Surplus debentures: The fair values of surplus debentures are based on valuations obtained from independent pricing services or broker quotes.

Separate account invested assets: FHLB separate account invested assets are comprised of bonds and short-term investments. The fair value of the bonds held in the FHLB separate account are based on valuations obtained from an independent pricing service or broker quotes using the same methods and inputs described above for "bonds and preferred stocks".

Other assets and other liabilities: Other assets and liabilities considered financial instruments are generally of a short-term nature, and it is assumed the carrying value approximates fair value.

Deposit-type contracts: Fair values for the Company's liabilities under deposit-type contracts are estimated using discounted cash flow calculations based on interest rates currently being offered for like contracts with similar maturities.

21. Other Items

The Company elected to round to the nearest dollar in reporting amounts in this statement. Certain amounts reported in the prior year have been reclassified to conform to the current year presentation.

A. Extraordinary Items

There were no extraordinary items to disclose in 2014.

B. Troubled Debt Restructuring

There were no troubled debt restructurings in 2014.

C. Reinsurance transactions

The Company has a significant concentration of reinsurance with Wilton Re that could have a material impact on the Company's financial position. At December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, the reserves ceded to Wilton Re totaled $1,803,635,735 and $1,776,340,867, respectively. The Company monitors both the financial condition of individual reinsurers and risk concentration arising from similar geographic regions, activities and economic characteristics of reinsurers to reduce the risk of default by such reinsurers.

The Company entered into a coinsurance agreement with Front Street (Cayman) Ltd ("FSR"), an affiliate of HGI on December 31, 2012. Under the terms of this Reinsurance Agreement, reserves are calculated in accordance with statutory accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the MIA and with sound reserving and actuarial principles. The Iowa Insurance Division grandfathered the FSR Reinsurance Agreement upon re-domestication to Iowa. Therefore, the Company will continue to record the ceded reserve credit under the FSR Reinsurance Agreement in accordance with MIA accounting practices and continue to record the net hedge settlement at fair value, rather than amortized cost.

The Company entered into another coinsurance agreement with FSR Effective September 17, 2014, whereby FGLIC ceded to FSR 30% of any new business of its multi-year guaranteed annuity block of business ("MYGA") issued September 17, 2014 and later. Under the agreement, no initial ceding commission was paid as of all the underlying business is new business. The statutory reserves ceded to FSR under this agreement were $82,539,203 as of December 31, 2014. FSR is an unauthorized reinsurer in Iowa and, therefore, the FSR Coinsurance Agreement is on a funds withheld basis and the statutory reserves are fully collateralized by a funds withheld account. Under the agreement terms, the Company holds bonds and other fixed income securities in a separate custodial account over which the Company retains control and has title to all assets held in this account. As of December 31, 2014, cash and invested assets held in the funds withheld account had a statutory statement value of $81,059,051.

There were no other significant transactions during 2014 outside of the normal course of business.

D. Business Interruption Insurance Recoveries. - None.

E. State Transferable Tax Credits. - None.

F. Subprime Mortgage Related Risk Exposure

1. Exposure to subprime mortgage risk is defined using market accepted guidelines on FICO scores, original loan to value ratios and documentation. Additionally, the evaluation of securities includes reviewing the quality of the servicer, pool specific statistics, the position of the security within the capital structure of the trust holding the mortgages and the credit enhancement available to protect the principal value of the security being evaluated. Accepted guidelines on FICO scores and documentation include the following characteristics:

- Original loan to values ratios on these loans tend to be higher in 2006 and 2007 (80% to 100% when accounting for subsequent second liens). In 2004 and earlier subprime origination, loan to value ratios were lower at origination (65% to 80%).
- FICO scores are in the lower range (FICO scores range from 300 to 800, 620 and below is typically considered subprime).
- No documentation or low documentation

- The borrower's rate at the time of origination is much higher than the conforming rate at the time which is referred to as the spread at the time of origination
- Debt to income ratios on these borrowers may be higher.
- In the past there were some issuers whose sole origination was subprime loans
- Since poorer quality loans typically have higher losses, the amount of subordination on a package of subprime loans is much higher than that of prime collateral.

Risk exposure associated with subprime market fluctuation and cash flow deterioration is managed by actively monitoring and trading securities in the non-agency residential mortgage backed (NA RMBS) sector focusing on individual issue selection with a bias towards more seasoned collateral. When a security has a market price below the book price, the decision to sell the security and realize the loss or hold the security and recognize the unrealized loss is dependent upon the active monitoring of the portfolio and the fundamental analysis of the structure and underlying loans on an individual security.

2. Direct exposure to subprime mortgages through investments. – None.

3. The Company has direct exposure through other investments.

G. Retained Assets

(1) Retained Asset Accounts represent the settlement of life insurance and annuity proceeds via an interest bearing account provided by the Company for the benefit of the beneficiaries. The beneficiary has complete control of and immediate access to the funds in this account. Interest rates paid to the Retained Asset account holders during 2014 were 1.0% from January 1, 2014 through December 31, 2014. The Company does not charge fees related to the Retained Asset Accounts.

The balances in the tables below include the accounts of the Company's subsidiary, FGLICNY, as their accounts are held and administered by the Company. FGLICNY transferred cash equal to the life insurance or annuity proceeds to the Company when the beneficiary elected the Retained Asset Account settlement option, therefore, the Company reports the liability for FGLICNY's Retained Asset Accounts on its Balance Sheet. In November 2009, FGLICNY discontinued offering the Retained Asset Account as a settlement option.
