NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

A. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(1) Accounting Practices

The financial statements of Fidelity & Guaranty Life Insurance Company (the "Company" or "FGLIC") are presented on the basis of accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Iowa Department of Commerce, Insurance Division (the "Iowa Insurance Division").

The Iowa Insurance Division recognizes only statutory accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the State of Iowa for determining and reporting the financial condition and results of operations of an insurance company and for determining its solvency under Iowa Insurance Law. The National Association of Insurance Commissioners' ("NAIC") Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual ("NAIC SAP") has been adopted as a component of prescribed or permitted practices by the State of Iowa.

Subsequent to its re-domestication to Iowa and pursuant to SSAP No. 72, "Surplus and Quasi-reorganizations", the Iowa Insurance Division granted the Company a permitted statutory accounting practice to reclassify its negative unassigned surplus balance of $805,816,723 to additional paid in capital as of April 6, 2011, the date of acquisition of the Company by Harbinger Group Inc. ("HGI"), which had the effect of setting the Company's statutory unassigned surplus to zero as of this date. The Iowa Insurance Division waived the six-month timeframe contained in SSAP No. 72 in connection with a change in control.

Upon re-domestication to Iowa, the Company elected to use the alternative accounting practices prescribed by 191 IAC 97 for indexed annuity products ("FIA Products"). Under these alternative accounting practices prescribed by 191 IAC 97 "Accounting for Certain Derivative Instruments Used to Hedge the Growth in Interest Credited for Indexed Insurance Products and Accounting for the Indexed Insurance Products Reserve", the call option derivative instruments that hedge the growth in interest credited on index products are accounted for at amortized cost with the corresponding amortization recorded as a decrease to net investment income and indexed annuity reserves are calculated based on Standard Valuation Law and Actuarial Guideline XXXV assuming the market value of the call options associated with the current index term is zero regardless of the observable market value for such options. The Company's FIA Products constitute "indexed annuity products" and the derivatives hedging the Company's FIA Products constitute "eligible derivative assets" as defined in 191 IAC 97.3. As such, the Company elected to account for such eligible derivative assets at amortized cost pursuant to 191 IAC 97.4 and to determine indexed annuity product reserve calculations based on Actuarial Guideline XXXV, assuming the market value of the eligible derivative assets associated with the current interest crediting period is zero, and reflect the interest credit in the reserve when realized based on the actual performance of the relevant external index or indices pursuant of 191 IAC 97.5. This change in accounting practice was effective retroactively to January 1, 2013. The effect of this election at January 1, 2013 was an increase in surplus of $13,557,555 and is reflected in the Statement of Capital and Surplus as a cumulative effect of changes in accounting principles. The cumulative effect adjustment is comprised of a decrease in reserves of $58,605,860, an increase in net deferred tax assets of $24,742,376, and an increase in the Company's investment in affiliated common stock of $18,745,968, partially offset by a decrease in the equity option assets of $70,692,501 and an increase in the current tax liability of $17,844,148.

The increase in the Company's investment in affiliated common stock represents an increase in the statutory surplus of its subsidiary, Raven Reinsurance Company ("Raven Re") due to a decrease in the FIA reserve liability ceded to Raven Re under the waiver of surrender charge ("WSC") reinsurance treaty. In accordance with the WSC treaty, the Company will determine the reserve credit for the waiver of surrender charge risk ceded to the Raven Re, and Raven Re will determine its assumed reserves, under statutory accounting principles for the state of domicile of the Company which includes the election by the Company to follow the alternative accounting practices prescribed by 191 IAC 97. The Commissioner of the Vermont Department of Financial Regulation (the "Vermont Department") approved and permitted Raven Re to also follow the alternative accounting practices prescribed by 191 IAC. Raven Re's surplus increased $18,745,968 at January 1, 2013 as a result of adopting 191 IAC 97 which is comprised of a decrease in its reserve liability of $28,839,916 and an increase in its current tax liability of $10,093,948.

If the Company had not elected the adoption of the alternative prescribed accounting practice, statutory surplus would be increased by $783,371 at September 30, 2014 and decreased by $11,516,823 at December 31, 2013. Additionally, net income would be increased by $38,289,884 at September 30, 2014 and decreased by $118,989,225 at December 31, 2013. The Company's risk-based capital ("RBC") would not have triggered a regulatory event had it not adopted the alternative prescribed accounting practice described above.

A reconciliation of the Company's net income and capital and surplus between NAIC SAP and practices prescribed and permitted by the Iowa Insurance Division is shown below:

The Company has no other statutory accounting practices that differ from those of NAIC SAP other than 191 IAC 97 and the application of SSAP 72 after the expiration of the six-month timeframe prescribed in SSAP 72.

At September 30, 2014 and December 31, 2013, the Company's investment in affiliated common stock for Raven Re reflects the subsidiary's effect of the Vermont Department permitted accounting practice for Raven Re's letter of credit ("LOC") as an admitted asset for $251,250,000 and $270,000,000, respectively. The LOC was secured by Raven Re to finance the statutory reserves resulting from the Raven Re WSC reinsurance treaty, effective October 2012 entered into with the Company. In accordance with the LOC agreement, the letter of credit decreases $6,250,000 on the first day of each quarter.

(3) For the nine months ended, September 30, 2014, the Company did not recognize any other-than-temporary impairments ("OTTI") as the present value of cash flows expected to be collected are less than the amortized cost basis of these securities.

(4) The following table presents the unrealized loss aging for the Company's investments in loan-backed and structured securities at September 30, 2014 by length of time the security was in a continuous unrealized loss position.

a) The aggregate amount of unrealized losses:

1. Less than 12 Months $ 18,326,314
2. 12 Months or Longer $ 12,972,023

b) The aggregate related fair value of securities with unrealized losses:

1. Less than 12 Months $ 1,300,292,037
2. 12 Months or Longer $ 405,726,920

(5) If the fair value of a loan-backed or structured security is less than its amortized cost basis at the balance sheet date, the Company determines whether the following circumstances exist and, if so, recognizes an- other-than-temporary impairment loss:

- If the Company intends to sell the security or does not have the intent and ability to retain the security until its amortized cost is recovered, the security is other-than-temporarily impaired. A realized loss is recognized for the entire difference between the security's amortized cost and its fair value at the balance-sheet date.

- If the Company does not expect to recover the entire amortized cost from the present value of the security's future cash flows, it cannot assert it has the ability to recover the security's amortized cost even though it has no intent to sell and has the intent and ability to retain. The security is therefore other-than-temporarily impaired. A realized loss is recognized for the non-interest-related decline, which is the difference between the security's amortized cost and the present value of cash flows expected to be collected.

14. Contingencies

G. All other contingencies

The Company is involved in various pending or threatened legal proceedings, including purported class actions, arising in the ordinary course of business. In some instances, these proceedings include claims for unspecified or substantial punitive damages and similar types of relief in addition to amounts for alleged contractual liability or requests for equitable relief. In the opinion of management and in light of existing insurance and other potential indemnification, reinsurance and established reserves, such litigation is not expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial position, although it is possible that the results of operations and cash flows could be materially affected by an unfavorable outcome in any one period.

On July 18, 2011, a putative class action Complaint was filed in the United States District Court for the Central District of California, captioned Eddie L. Cressy v. OM Financial Life Insurance Company, et. al., Case No. 2:2011-cv-05871. The Plaintiff asked the Court to certify the action as a class action on behalf of both a nationwide and a California class defined as certain persons who were sold OM Financial Life Insurance equity-indexed universal life insurance policies.

The Plaintiff alleged, inter alia, that the Plaintiff and members of the putative class relied on defendants' advice to purchase unsuitable insurance policies. After extensive motion practice, the federal court dismissed the federal causes of action, with prejudice, and, on May 9, 2013, declined to exercise supplemental jurisdiction over the state law claims, dismissed the state law claims, without prejudice, and granted the Plaintiff leave to re-file the state law claims in California state court.

On July 5, 2013, the Plaintiff filed a putative class action captioned Eddie L. Cressy v. Fidelity & Guaranty [sic] Life Insurance Company, et. al. in the Superior Court of California, County of Los Angeles (the "Court"), at No. BC-514340. The state court Complaint asserts, inter alia, that the Plaintiff and members of the putative class relied on Defendants' advice in purchasing unsuitable equity-indexed insurance policies. The Plaintiff seeks to certify a class defined as "all persons who reside or are located in the state of California who were sold OM Financial/Fidelity & Guaranty Life equity-indexed universal life insurance policies as an investment."

On April 4, 2014, the Plaintiff, the Company and the other two defendants signed a Settlement Agreement, pursuant to which the Company agreed to pay a total of $5,250,000 to settle the claims of a nationwide class consisting, with certain exclusions, of all persons who own or owned an OM Financial/Fidelity & Guaranty Life indexed universal life insurance policy issued from January 1, 2007 through March 31, 2014, inclusive. As part of the settlement, the Company agreed to certification of the nationwide class for settlement purposes only. An amended Settlement Agreement was filed with the Court on June 5, 2014 as part of the Plaintiff's Unopposed Motion for Preliminary Approval of Settlement and Conditional Class Certification. On June 19, 2014, the Court held a hearing on Plaintiff's Unopposed Motion for Preliminary Approval of Settlement and Conditional Class Certification and entered its Order Granting Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlementt (the "Order"). Pursuant to the terms of the Settlement Agreement and the Court's Order, the Company has the right to unilaterally terminate the settlement if either: (i) 100 policyholders or (ii) policyholders representing more than one percent (1%) of the total premiums paid opt out of or object to the settlement. Final settlement is also subject to other conditions and the entry of a final order that can no longer be appealed. On November 18, 2014, the Court is expected to hold a hearing to determine whether it should finally approve the settlement.

The Company estimated the total cost for the settlement, legal fees and other costs related to this class action would be $9,922,625 and has established a liability for the unpaid portion of the estimate of $4,751,021. Based on the information currently available the Company does not expect the actual cost for settlement, legal fees and other related cost to differ materially from the amount accrued. The Company is seeking indemnification from OM Group (UK) Limited ("OMGUK") under the First Amended and Restated Stock Purchase Agreement, dated February 17, 2011 (the "F&G Stock Purchase Agreement") between Fidelity & Guaranty Life (formerly, Harbinger F&G, LLC) and OMGUK related to the settlement and the costs and fees in defending the Cressy litigation in both the federal and state courts. The Company has established an amount recoverable from OMGUK for the amount of $4,862,086, the collection of which the Company believes is probable. The actual amount recovered from OMGUK could be greater or less than the Company's estimate, but the Company anticipates that the amount recovered will not be materially different than its current estimate.

In light of the inherent uncertainties involved in the matter described above and uncertainties in litigation generally, there can be no assurance that this litigation, or any other pending or future litigation, will not have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, or results of operations.

20. Fair Value Measurements

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

A. The Company's measurement of fair value is based on assumptions used by market participants in pricing the asset or liability, which may include inherent risk, restrictions on the sale or use of an asset or non-performance risk. The Company's estimate of an exchange price is the price in an orderly transaction between market participants to sell the asset or transfer the liability ("exit price") in the principal market, or the most advantageous market in the absence of a principal market, for that asset or liability, as opposed to the price that would be paid to acquire the asset or receive a liability ("entry price").

(1) Fair Value Measurements at September 30, 2014:

Liabilities at fair value:
Write-in (Due to Futures Broker)	$ -	$ 482,111	$ -	$ 482,111

(2) Fair Value Measurements in (Level 3) of the Fair Value Hierarchy

No fair value measurements were determined using significant unobservable inputs (Level 3). Level 3 securities trade in less liquid or illiquid markets with limited or no pricing information. The valuation relies on management's judgment concerning the discount rate used in calculating expected cash flows, credit quality, industry sector performance and expected maturity.

(3) The Company's policy is to recognize transfers in and transfers out of the fair value hierarchy levels as of the beginning of the year of the event or change in circumstances that caused the transfer.

(4) Valuation techniques and inputs used in Fair Value Measurements for Level 2:

Bonds and preferred stocks – The fair value of bonds and preferred stocks is based upon valuations obtained from an independent pricing service. The primary inputs are observable and include benchmark yields, reported trades, broker/dealer quotes, issuer spread, two-sided markets, benchmark securities, bids, offers and reference data including market research publications. The independent pricing service also evaluates new issue data, monthly payment information and collateral performance. The independent pricing service uses spreads and other information solicited from Wall Street buy and sell side sources, including primary and secondary dealers, portfolio managers and research analysts. The primary inputs used by the independent pricing service are observable and, therefore, the investments are classified as Level 2.

Common Stock - Unaffiliated - The Company's investment in unaffiliated common stock that is reported at fair value and classified in Level 2 represents the Company's investment in Federal Home Loan Bank of Atlanta ("FHLB") common stock. Based upon the level of transactions with the FHLB, the Company is required to maintain FHLB stock. The fair value of this stock is set equal to its cost, which represents the price at which the FHLB will repurchase the stock.

Derivative Instruments - The fair value of derivative assets, excluding options that hedge FIA Products which are carried at amortized cost as described in Note 1A, is based upon valuation pricing models and represents what the Company would expect to receive or pay at the balance sheet date if the Company cancelled the options, entered into offsetting positions, or exercised the options. The fair value of futures contracts at the balance sheet date represents the cumulative unsettled variation margin. Fair values for these instruments are determined externally by an independent actuarial firm using market observable inputs, including interest rates, yield curve volatilities, etc. and therefore, the assets are classified as Level 2. Credit risk related to the counterparty is considered when estimating the fair values of these derivatives. However, the Company is largely protected by collateral arrangements with counterparties.

Valuation techniques and inputs used in Fair Value Measurements for Level 3:

In certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, an investment's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lower level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Company's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the investment.

When a determination is made to classify an asset or liability within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy, the determination is based upon the significance of the unobservable inputs to the overall fair value measurement. Because certain securities trade in less liquid or illiquid markets with limited or no pricing information, the determination of fair value for these securities is inherently more difficult. However, Level 3 fair value investments may include, in addition to the unobservable or Level 3 inputs, observable components, which are components that are actively quoted or can be validated to market-based sources.

Bonds and preferred stocks: Fair values for bonds and preferred stocks are based on valuations obtained from an independent pricing service or broker quotes. The independent pricing service's valuations are based on market data and utilize pricing models that vary by asset class and incorporate available trade, bid and other market information and, for structured securities, cash flow and loan performance data when available. The primary inputs are observable and include benchmark yields, reported trades, broker/dealer quotes, issuer spread, two-sided markets, benchmark securities, bids, offers and reference data including market research publications. The independent pricing service also evaluates new issue data, monthly payment information and collateral performance. The independent pricing service uses spreads and other information solicited from Wall Street buy and sell side sources, including primary and secondary dealers, portfolio managers and research analysts. The Company uses the valuations provided by the independent pricing service as the estimated fair value of the security when available. If the independent pricing service is not able to provide a valuation, the Company obtains a broker quote and uses the broker quote as an estimate of fair value.

Common stocks - unaffiliated: The Company's investment in unaffiliated common stocks is comprised of FHLB common stock and mutual funds. Based upon the level of transactions with the FHLB, the Company is required to maintain FHLB stock. The fair value of the FHLB common stock is set equal to its cost, which represents the price at which the FHLB will repurchase the stock. The mutual funds in which the Company invests are actively-traded institutional and retail mutual fund investments. The fair value for the mutual fund investments is based on the values provided by the respective mutual fund companies and represents the value the Company would have received if it withdrew its investment on the balance sheet date.

Mortgage loans and policy loans: Fair values for policy loans are estimated using discounted cash flow analysis, using interest rates currently being offered for loans with similar credit risk. Loans with similar characteristics are aggregated for purposes of the calculations. The carrying value for mortgage loans approximates the fair value.

Derivative instruments: The fair value of options is based upon valuation pricing models and represents what the Company would expect to receive or pay at the balance sheet date if the Company cancelled the options, entered into offsetting positions, or exercised the options. The fair value of futures contracts at the balance sheet date represents the cumulative unsettled variation margin (open trade equity net of cash settlements). Fair values for these instruments are determined externally by an independent actuarial firm using market observable inputs, including interest rates, yield curve volatilities and other factors.

Surplus debentures: The fair values of surplus debentures are based on valuations obtained from independent pricing services or broker quotes.

Other Invested Assets – This caption primarily includes affiliated subordinated notes and affiliated preferred equity interests. The fair value of affiliated subordinated notes is based on valuations obtained from independent pricing services. The fair value of affiliated preferred equity interests is based on a market approach, which utilizes prices and other relevant information generated by market transactions involving identical or comparable securities. The significant unobservable input used in the market approach for the affiliated preferred equity interests is yields for comparable securities.

Separate account invested assets: FHLB separate account invested assets are comprised of bonds and short-term investments. The fair value of the bonds held in the FHLB separate account are based on valuations obtained from an independent pricing service or broker quotes using the same methods and inputs described above for “bonds and preferred stocks”.

Other assets and other liabilities: Other assets and liabilities considered financial instruments are generally of a short-term nature, and it is assumed the carrying value approximates fair value.

Deposit-type contracts: Fair values for the Company's liabilities under deposit-type contracts are estimated using discounted cash flow calculations based on interest rates currently being offered for like contracts with similar maturities.
